JUROR EXCUSED; EXTRA PANEL OF FORTY IS DRAWN

Presentation of Case Against Edwin Van Aken May Begin Today If Last Juror is Secured—Examinations of Twenty-four Jurors Thursday Afternoon.

After completing the panel of jurors for the Van Aken trial, Owen Cassidy of Kingston, juror number 7, was excused Thursday afternoon by the court owing to illness. When Mr. Cassidy appeared in court in the afternoon, it could be plainly seen that he was ill and after the completion of the panel, it was deemed wise to excuse him in order that there would be no interruption once the trial was begun. After A. D. Rose had been selected to fill the twelfth seat an attempt was made to fill Mr. Cassidy's seat but none of the thirty extra men drawn Wednesday afternoon proved satisfactory to the attorneys and after this panel had been exhausted, Judge Hasbrouck ordered another panel of 40 jurors drawn. They will be in court this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The names drawn are:
Lewis A. Osterhout, Rochester.
Joseph Duffy, city.
J. G. Petherbridge, Shawangunk.
James H. Ward, Platekill.
D. G. Dayton, New Paltz.
Montgomery Dietz, Rosendale.
Frank L. DuBois, Lloyd.
Charles Lahti, Jr., city.
W. P. DuBois, Marlborough.
Ira Snyder, Marlborough.
Daniel Cowley, Ulster.
G. B. Clearwater, Shawangunk.
George Winchell, Marlborough.
B. W. Todd, Hardenburgh.
Clarence Snyder, Woodstock.
Samuel Shults, Shandaken.
Jacob Winchell, Olive.
William Sheeley, Denning.
William Naby, Platekill.
P. W. Brundage, Denning.
John McCourt, Marlborough.
Hiram Van Seunburgh, Hurley.
George Lefevre, Rosendale.
Henry Stengle, Esopus.
Irving Tapp, Saugerties.
John Fisher, city.
Robert A. Watson, city.
C. W. Smith, Rochester.
Charles Cattie, Wawarsing.
Carl Miskew, Esopus.
D. A. Hasbrouck, New Paltz.
Henry Elfer, New Paltz.
Albert Smedes, Hurley.
Frank Stenglein, city.
W. S. Potter, city.
C. B. Wright, Gardiner.
James H. Williams, city.
Ves Peoples, New Paltz.
William A. Bilyon, city.
John Barringer, Olive.

May Open Case Today.

From this second extra panel of jurors it is hoped that the remaining juror to be chosen to hear the case will be secured this afternoon. The case will probably be opened by The People if the last juror is secured by four o'clock.

Although a large number of jurors have been challenged for various reasons it has been principally for cause and the defense have excused but 17 of their 39 which they are allowed. The People had exhausted 23 of their preemptory challenges Thursday afternoon.

Two Dead Men Drawn.

When court convened Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock all but six of the thirty extra jurors summoned the night before were in attendance. Two of the men, Oscar Knipps of Esopus, and Michael Carty of this city, were found dead by the sheriff. Three were out of the county and not served. They were Charles Brundage of this city, William Secor of Olive and Harry P. Dederick of the city. Charles F. Snyder of Saugerties did not respond to his name and it is understood that although served under this name, he claimed that his name was not Charles F. but Charles D. Snyder, and did not appear. He accepted the summons under the name of Charles P., and the court imposed a fine of $10 upon Mr. Snyder for failure to appear.

Those excused by the court upon excuse were: Peter J. Hoy, an exempt freeman; John Finley, also an exempt freeman; Charles M. King, who served his time in the National Guard; George Knoepel, III; William N. Mills and John Kramer, an exempt freeman.

William O'Brien of Saugerties, a quartermaster at Aisen, was challenged for bias when examined as he wanted on eye witness. He also had an opinion and had employed Mr. Brininger. He had read of the case.

Saugerties Men Examined.

James W. Cole of West Saugerties, a merchant, also was challenged for bias as he had formed an opinion and would require evidence to remove it.

W. Grant Cole, a farmer, of Saugerties, also would require an eye witness. He had read of the case and formed an opinion and would require evidence to remove the opinion which he had formed. Mr. Cole was also ill and did not wish to sit upon the jury. He was challenged for bias by the defense and excused. Oliver Holder, a stone cutter, of Saugerties, would require an eye witness and was challenged by the People.

Orsen Barnhardt of Lew Beach did not know of the case, had never read or heard of it. He was not acquainted with Mr. Brininger or Mayor Canfield and would render a verdict.

INSPECTION DAY FOR CITY HOSPITAL

Open House Saturday Afternoon to Mark 24th Anniversary of Laying of Cornerstone and Completion of Addition.

Tomorrow, Saturday, April 21, is the 24th anniversary of the laying of the cornerstone of the Kingston City Hospital. In commemoration of this event, the new addition to the hospital, just completed and furnished, will be thrown open to the public from two to five in the afternoon.

Every adult person in the city will be welcome to pass through the building and see the splendid equipment Kingston has for the war that is always with us—the war against sickness and injury. There will be a reception committee consisting of members of the Ladies' Auxiliary and Nurses' Alumni Association. These ladies will act as hostesses and as guides throughout the building. The doctors on the staff of the hospital will all be present and the board of managers. Entrance will be through the front door, although the old part of the building (being still in process of repair) will not be on exhibition. It is hoped that guests will come early, as the reception must be ended promptly at five owing to the patients' supper hour. Two to five are the hours. The ladies who will receive are Mrs. George Chandler, Mrs. T. J. Hickey, Mrs. G. D. B. Hasbrouck, Mrs. C. E. Hasbrouck, Mrs. Charles Tappan. The above are officers of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

The following are representatives of the Graduate Nurses' Alumni Association: Miss Deicke, Mrs. John Rodie, Mrs. Chester Osterhout, Mrs. W. C. Hussey, Miss Keating and Miss Murphy.

Also the following members of the auxiliary: Mrs. James A. Betts, Mrs. E. E. Norwood, Mrs. James R. Nelson, Mrs. Daniel Connelly, Mrs. Frank Keator, Mrs. G. W. Ross, Mrs. A. S. Vrooman, Mrs. John R. Kearney, Mrs. F. J. Higginson, Mrs. Viola Bishop, Mrs. George Hutton, Mrs. John Forestry, Mrs. Everett Fowler, Mrs. Richard Tappan, Mrs. Selig Oppenheimer, Mrs. James Jenkins, Mrs. John D. MAN WOUNDED BY MILITIAMAN DIES

Shooting Accidental According to Ante-Mortem Statement—Charge Against Catskill Soldier May be Changed to Manslaughter.

Joseph Sciarlanto, of 235 Washington street, Newburgh, who was wounded by Private Lawrence C. Panguay of Company E, Tenth Regiment, N. G. N. Y., of Catskill, on Tuesday afternoon, died in St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, Thursday morning. The charge against the militiaman, who is thought to have been accidental—a statement from the dead man vindicating him entirely—has heretofore been assault in the first degree, and may now be changed to manslaughter. The hearing which was to have been held today before Recorder Cantline has been postponed until Tuesday morning, because of the fact District Attorney Hirschberg has engagements out of town today and Saturday and Coroner Norman DuBois will hold the inquest Monday. James Williamson, clerk to the district attorney, is working on the case. Captain Cassidy of Company E, Tenth Infantry, at Burns House on the Little Britain Road, was notified by the district attorney's office of the death of Sciarlanto. The deceased was 33 years of age, having been born in Italy.

Red Cross News to Date.

Hereafter, or until the work crowds more than at present, those who are devoting themselves to the cutting of materials for the surgical dressings at Wiltwyck Chapter House, will have a monopoly of the work in the mornings. By devoting themselves exclusively to the cutting in the mornings, it will be possible to be ready for the workers in the afternoons. This plan will also relieve many of the women who have found it so very difficult to get to the chapter house in the morning, thus enabling them to devote more time and effort to the afternoon work.

Red Cross at Stone Ridge.

Saturday evening there will be a patriotic rally at Stone Ridge and Roger Loughran of this city will represent the Red Cross at this meeting and will tell of the work and needs of the organization which is now such an important factor in the war situation.

MAJOR CHANDLER NAMED TO TAKE MILITARY CENSUS

Home Defense Committee Takes Action to Enroll Every Man and Woman in Ulster County, Between Ages of 16 and 50, and Volunteers Are Asked to Assist in Important Work.

Major George Chandler was appointed director of the military census for Ulster county by the Home Defense Committee Thursday afternoon. Major Chandler will determine upon the plan to be adopted in taking the military census, details of which work were outlined in a report made by Former Congressman Frank J. LeFevre of New Paltz, of the Home Defense Committee, who attended a meeting of representatives of all the counties of the state held at Albany on Monday.

What the Military Census Means.

About four hundred people were present at the meeting, Mr. LeFevre reported, all the counties having from two to five delegates. Adjutant General Stotesbury addressed the delegates, principally on the military census and inventory.

A military census will be taken of all persons in the state, citizens and aliens, men and women, between the ages of 16 and 50.

The date of the census is likely to be from May 19 and May 25—practically two weeks, and the census will take in about 45 per cent of the population of the state. The state officials should be notified by May first where to send the enrollment blanks.

Albany Will Look After Those Refusing to Answer.

There will be one hundred questions on each blank, all of which must be answered, and those who refuse to answer questions must be reported by the census enumerators to the Census Bureau at Albany, whose officials will take proper steps.

The method by which the census is taken will be either by enumerators making a house to house canvass or at enrollment depots, the method to be determined by census officials individually. Where enrollment depots are established, they must be furnished and provided with stationery, tables, chairs, clerks, etc. The state will furnish all blanks required, rubber stamps, leaflets, and instruction blanks. The enrollment card is to be signed in the presence of the enumerator.

The committee is to put up notices of how the census is to be taken and every one between the ages of 16 and 50 must register.

Chance For Patriotism.

The state will not furnish any money for the expense of this census. All work of all kinds connected with it will be voluntary, and a patriotic spirit should make every one anxious to help.

The committee on home defense can accept voluntary contributions, but must finance its own work. Help will be accepted from all people and organizations, such as the Red Cross, Boy Scouts, the Woman Suffrage Party, Women's Clubs, etc.

Enlistments to be Encouraged.

The committee should encourage people to enlist in the army and navy, but not urge farmer's boys as they are needed at home.

The county will provide home defense companies with arms and uniforms, the adjutant general furnishing information as to where to obtain them. Officers will be assigned to drill them. This is a county expense.

Home Defense Companies will be of two classes: Class A, composed of men up to 45 years of age and liable to be sent anywhere; class B, composed of men beyond 45 years of age, and liable for home defense anywhere in the state.

Commissioner Wilson of the department of agriculture will look after the food supply, etc.

The Home Defense Committee is to appoint sub-committees and will act as an executive committee, having charge of all sub-committees.

The enrollment blanks to be used in taking the military census will be in three colors; for men between the ages of 19 and 25, printed in red ink; for men over 25 years of age, in black ink; for women, in blue ink. The enrollment envelopes will be the same color as the blanks.

At the conclusion of Mr. LeFevre's report, a telegram having been received requesting immediate information of the name of the director of the military census, the committee discussed the matter of the director and appointed Major Chandler as such director.

Finance Committee Will be Important.

A communication from Albany in relation to the finance committee suggested that contributions be collected as soon as the amount needed for county headquarters is ascertained. Where contributions of money cannot be made, contributions of labor can be made by anyone.

On motion of Martin Cantline, a finance committee of ten members was authorized, to be appointed by Judge Hasbrouck, chairman of the Home Defense Committee.

Sub-Committee Chairmen Selected.

The committee selected the chairmen of the following sub-committees, who were authorized in each case to select ten associates, subject to approval by the Home Defense Committee:

Committee on Security and Home

Defense Corps—Major William J. Cranston of Kingston.

Military Committee—Major Chandler.

Committee on Co-operation of Charitable, Religious and Fraternal Organizations, Dependents, Employment Bureau and Red Cross Activities—Rev. John J. Hickey, Father Hickey has been a member of the Relief Committee organized some time ago and active in its affairs. Most of the members of that committee are members of the Home Defense Committee.

Recruiting Committee—Captain Francis Meagher of Kingston.

Committee on Food Production and Conservation—George Burgevin of Kingston.

Other Chairmen Will be Appointed.

Judge Hasbrouck was authorized to appoint the chairmen of the other sub-committees which are to be appointed in accordance with the general plan of the state officials, and such chairmen will select ten associates whose appointment will be subject to the approval of the Home Defense Committee.

Offers of Aid Received.

Communications were received offering assistance to the Home Defense Committee from the Citizens' Committee of the town of Lloyd, headed by Luther D. Wilkoy; Poulney Bigelow, for the use of 250 acres and a dock property on behalf of himself and Martin Cantline, for use in drilling; the Ulster County Medical Society, Lieutenant Rudolph Holsart, the Rev. Norman L. Heroy, Agnes N. Brennan and the New York State Woman Suffrage Party. The Woman Suffrage Party offered the use of its lecture, Mrs. Kirby, who has been lecturing as a canvassing demonstrator, and also of its Ulster county canvasser; also its aid in mobilizing the women of the county, and in furnishing an automobile and fresh garden seeds. The party asked that a mass meeting be called for the near future, to be addressed by Mrs. Kirby, Mr. Morgenthau and others.

Martin Cantline also offered the aid of the town of Saugerties organization which has been effected on the election district plan, and how it was proposed to conduct any work required by the Home Defense Committee in each of the nine election districts of the town, each district of which had been organized with sub-committees whose responsibility for the work had been fixed and approved at the township meeting. The Saugerties plan has been reported by The Freeman.

Judge Hasbrouck invited all the members of the committee to attend the patriotic meeting to be held at the high school auditorium next Wednesday evening.

All the members of the Home Defense Committee were present at the meeting. Captain Everett Fowler also was present and offered a number of suggestions regarding the work of organizing.

The committee will meet at the court house next Thursday afternoon at five o'clock.

The state's military authorities have completed the list of eighty-seven questions which are to be asked all male inhabitants between the ages of nineteen and twenty-five when the military census is completed during the first two weeks in May. Males between these ages will be liable to service under the first call to arms. Questions to be answered by all other persons in the state between the ages of sixteen and sixty-four will follow closely those for males in the nineteen to twenty-five age class, who will be required to answer the questions which follow:

MACQUEEN AND EUROPEAN WAR

Peter MacQueen, who writes the initials "P. R. G. S." after his name, gave an interesting talk at Chautauqua at the high school on Thursday evening on the European war, illustrated with about two hundred photographs, mostly taken by himself while in Europe. He showed pictures of American invented weapons which had played a big part in the war across the pond. He told of the invention of Captain Lewis whose machine gun plays a big part in Belgium history. Lewis when he invented the gun took it to Washington to sell our government, but some high brow at Washington turned him down, saying the gun was no good. Captain Lewis then resigned from the army, went to Belgium, sold the gun and with the aid of the gun and Belgians kept back the hordes of German hosts for four days, giving the rest of Europe a chance to recover from the shock and plunge into the war.

Another big gun, the largest used in the first two years of the war, was that of the Germans and that also was an American invention. A German-American invented it but our government refused to buy it and the inventor went to Europe and sold it to the Kaiser.

The musical part of the program was in charge of Pietro Mordeila and his company. He is one of the most famous piano-accordion players in the country and gave a number of selections that took down the house. He was assisted by three young Italian girls, one playing the piano, one singing and one playing the violin, and the only trouble with their end of the program was that it was not long enough.

This evening Judith Dameron will sing, Josef Martin will show what he can do with the piano and Miss Anderson will play the flute. Also Mrs. Leonora M. Lake will speak for over an hour on "The Rights of the Child."

Additional Memberships.

The following are new or renewed members of the Red Cross Chapter in Kingston: Mr. and Mrs. George Honness, Dr. and Mrs. Mark O'Meara, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Hauck, E. B. Schepmoes, Mrs. M. L. Goldrick, Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Hume, Miss Harriet Brunsell, Mrs. H. F. Pitts, Miss Miriam Pitts, M. E. Stanbrough, Miss Edith Stanbrough, Mrs. J. O. Winston, Isaac Abrahamson, Herbert Houghtaling, J. M. Northrup, P. L. Thornberry, Burdette Greene, P. L. Pitts, Dr. Henry Van Hovenbergh, L. E. Dumond, Alfred Van Buren, W. Frank Davis, Benjamin B. Johnston, Miss Elsie Stern, N. Edgar Powley, Mrs. D. Wetterhahn, Mrs. John Hermann, Mrs. Rudolph Dittus, Mrs. J. E. Derrenbacher.

600 GIVE US MEN APPEALS MEAGHER

Most Enthusiastic Patriotic Meeting Held at St. Mary's School at Which Dean Hickey Tells of Profiler of Benedictine Sanitarium and Church Buildings to Government.

Most enthusiastic and by far the best attended of the series of meetings being held in the various public and parochial schools of the city was that held by St. Mary's parochial school in St. Mary's Hall on Thursday evening. The hall was well filled with the children and their friends who were delightfully entertained by the program rendered. The Rev. Father Hickey, in opening the exercises, said it was not by accident that the anniversary of the Battle of Lexington had been chosen for this meeting, which was for the purpose of emphasizing the fact that the spirit of liberty still survived and that we had inherited the responsibility of maintaining it.

Professor William H. Rieser presided at the piano and played the marches and accompaniments to the various exercises by the children, which opened with the singing of America. This was followed by the reading of President Wilson's proclamation by Edward Burns. A flag drill by the boys of the school in connection with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" was the next number which was followed by "Tenting Tonight on the Old Camp Ground."

Girls Scored a Hit.

"Paul Revere's Ride" was recited in concert by sixteen of the girls of the school in a manner that gave proof of the perfect training they had received. "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean," was then sung by the same girls, the Goddess of Liberty appearing at the proper time carrying a large American flag in lieu of the torch.

The singing of "Flags of Many Colors" with an appropriate drill closed the musical part of the program, all of which was enjoyed to the utmost and frequently interspersed with applause.

The Time for Action.

Captain Frank L. Meagher of Company M, made a patriotic address emphasizing the necessity for action and setting forth the lack of it. "By their deeds ye shall know them," was the keynote of his speech. "History will record," he said, "and those who come after us will know what we have done. This is the time for action. The time for mere flag-waving, speeches and parades is past. It is all right to wave the flag and parade but that is not enough. I was sent home to recruit my company to peace strength. I needed fifty men. I have been home a week and the total number recruited up to tonight is six men. We must have these men and we will have them. If they do not volunteer we will get them in other ways. We do not have to wait for a new law. Under an existing law the governor and mayor have the power to designate the men I want and, if these do not respond, the full force of the law will be exerted to compel them to."

How Women May Aid.

"This situation does not exist in Kingston alone but is the same all over the state. I want fifty men tomorrow night but I know I will not get them. The question is, what can you do, you who are not eligible for military service? If you are a mother, you can give your son and that will be enough and God bless you for it. If you have tears to shed, shed them after he has gone, send him away with a smile on your face. If you are a young woman and you have influence over a young man—and what young woman has not—tell him to enlist and he does not go, tell him he need not come around any more."

"Some of you can be Red Cross nurses and you will receive as great credit as any man in the service. You can help in the military census that Major Chandler has just been appointed to take. Enumerators, stenographers, typewriters and clerks will be needed to work with our pay. This is a real necessary, patriotic service and you can render it."

"I want young men to fill up the company. I would rather have none over 25. This evening I passed two or three hundred of such young men on the street who have not responded. Why don't they respond? I don't know. Perhaps you can tell me."

"We want the young men to enlist now so that they can be trained and so that they and the rest of us can have a sporting chance of coming back home."

The Days of '98.

Father Hickey gave reminiscences of the leaving of the old Fourteenth Separate Company in the Spanish American war in 1898 and spoke of the touching scenes in the early night before when the Catholic members of the company came to receive a parting blessing. On that occasion he asked one soldier whom he knew was under military age how he had managed to get himself accepted. The boy said, "Father, I lied. You know my age but the nation doesn't know it and I want to serve my country."

He announced that St. Mary's parish offers seven acres of good garden land near the corner of Flatbush and Foxhall avenues for the Chamber of Commerce garden movement. Also that the vacant building adjoining the church was at the disposal of the authorities for headquarters for the census takers or for any other purpose; that the parish building in Ponckhockie was at the

RUSSIA SOURCE OF CONCERN TO U. S. A.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, April 20.—The Russian situation is causing concern to officials here. Failure of the provisional government to reconcile the differences between itself and the radicals is interfering with the reorganization of the Russian army. In addition the Socialistic element is known to be intriguing against the provisional government and utilizing all of its efforts in advocacy of making a separate peace with Germany.

While officials generally believe that eventually a solid government will be formed in Russia, they are not losing sight of the fact that the present situation is filled with dangerous possibilities. Ambassador Francis is keeping in the closest touch with the situation and all of his reports are transmitted directly to the president. Meanwhile Petrograd advices indicate that Germany shortly will attempt a drive directly against the Russian capital.

Because of the possibilities of the Russian situation officials are awaiting with the greatest interest the assembling here of the international war conference which is to dispose of many problems which are facing the government in connection with active participation in the war. It is hoped that as soon as the commission gets down to business just when still in a secret known only to the state department—it will be possible to get an outline of the general questions that will be discussed.

The cabinet meeting today was scheduled to consider certain questions affecting the conference. It was not expected, however, that any matters of a military character would be disposed of because Secretary of War Baker is in West Point participating in the exercises accompanying the early graduation of the first class of cadets.

The economic problem so far as this country is concerned was occupying the attention of the administration today. The announcement by Howard E. Coffin that there is real danger from hysterical and ill-advised economy and interference with normal pursuits came as a distinct surprise to most officials here. Coupled as it was with the statement that already many factories in central west are being closed, it brought a distinct warning home to officials generally and it is expected that steps will be taken to remedy as much as possible this condition of affairs.

In this connection it was stated today that the administration has received assurances from congressional leaders that the legislation which is deemed necessary to give the government firm control of the food situation will be passed without a very serious fight.

BRISK TRADING IN RAILROAD STOCKS

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, April 20.—The clouding up of the ruling made by the interstate commerce commission yesterday nullified good effects for a time after the opening of the stock market today and substantial advances in the initial trading were lost when stocks were supplied in a large volume by speculative interests which have been noted as fighting all advances for months past. There was brisk trading in Union Pacific, which rose 1 1/2 to 133 1/2. New York Central opened up 1 1/2 at 95 1/2, from which it reacted to 94 1/2. Reading opened 1 1/2 higher at 96 1/2, then dropped to 95 1/2. There was heavy trading in U. S. Steel Common which opened up 1/4 at 112 1/2, reacted to 111 1/2, from which it quickly advanced to 112 1/2. New Haven was again under pressure and after opening 1 1/2 higher, at 41, dropped to 39 1/2. After the recessions from the opening range, the market developed a firmer tone and another upward movement was in progress after the end of the first quarter of an hour.

service of the government for any use to which it might be put. In the event of hostilities it might be useful as a home for convalescents. The Benedictine Sanitarium offered to turn over its entire property for the use of the nation in the event of war.

After an address on the food shortage and the need for everyone to contribute his mite toward averting famine by planting and cultivating every available foot of ground, the exercises were closed by the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

JUROR EXCUSED; EXTRA PANEL OF FORTY IS DRAWN

Presentation of Case Against Edwin Van Aken May Begin Today If Last Juror is Secured—Examinations of Twenty-four Jurors Thursday Afternoon.

After completing the panel of jurors for the Van Aken trial, Owen Cassidy of Kingston, juror number 7, was excused Thursday afternoon by the court owing to illness. When Mr. Cassidy appeared in court in the afternoon, it could be plainly seen that he was ill and after the completion of the panel, it was deemed wise to excuse him in order that there would be no interruption once the trial was begun. After A. D. Rose had been selected to fill the twelfth seat an attempt was made to fill Mr. Cassidy's seat but none of the thirty extra men drawn Wednesday afternoon proved satisfactory to the attorneys and after this panel had been exhausted, Judge Hasbrouck ordered another panel of 40 jurors drawn. They will be in court this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The names drawn are: Lewis A. Osterhout, Rochester; Joseph Duffy, city; J. G. Petherbridge, Shawangunk; James H. Ward, Plattekill; D. C. Dayton, New Paltz; Montgomery Dietz, Rosendale; Frank L. Thibault, Lloyd; Charles Lahl, Jr., city; W. E. DuBois, Marlborough; Mrs. Sander, Marlborough; Daniel Givley, Ulster; G. B. Clearwater, Shawangunk; George Winchell, Marlborough; D. W. Todd, Hardenburgh; Clarence Snyder, Woodstock; Samuel Shultz, Shandaken; Jacob Winchell, Olive; William Sheeler, Denning; William Nabor, Plattekill; P. W. Brundage, Denning; John McCourt, Marlborough; Hiram Van Seaburg, Hurley; George Leferer, Rosendale; Henry Steagle, Esopus; Irving Tapp, Saugerties; John Fisher, city; Robert A. Watson, city; W. Smith, Rochester; Charles Carlin, Wawarsing; Carl Mikesch, Esopus; D. A. Hasbrouck, New Paltz; Henry Hoyer, New Paltz; Albert Smides, Hurley; Frank Steigelin, city; W. S. Potter, city; C. B. Wright, Gardiner; James H. Williams, city; Asa Teagle, New Paltz; William A. Bilyou, city; John Darringer, Olive.

May Open Case Today.

From this second extra panel of jurors it is hoped that the remaining juror to be chosen to hear the case will be secured this afternoon. The case will probably be opened by the People if the last juror is secured by four o'clock.

Although a large number of jurors have been challenged for various reasons it has been principally for cause and the defense have excused but 17 of their 30 which they are allowed. The People had exhausted 23 of their peremptory challenges Thursday afternoon.

Two Dead Men Drawn.

When court convened Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock all but six of the thirty extra jurors summoned the night before were in attendance. Two of the men, Oscar Knipps of Esopus, and Michael Canty of this city, were found dead by the sheriff. Three were out of the county and not served. They were Charles Brundage of this city, William Secor of Olive and Harry P. Dedrick of the city. Charles F. Snyder of Saugerties did not respond to his name and it is understood that although served under this name, he claimed that his name was not Charles F. but Charles D. Snyder, and did not appear. He accepted the summons under the name of Charles F. and the court imposed a fine of $10 upon Mr. Snyder for failure to appear.

Those excused by the court upon excuse were: Peter J. Hoyer, an exempt fireman; John Finley, also an exempt fireman; Charles M. King, who served his time in the National Guard; George Knoepel, III; William A. Mills and John Kramer, an exempt fireman.

William O'Brien of Saugerties, a quarryman at Aiken, was challenged for bias when examined as he wanted an eye witness. He also had an opinion and had employed Mr. Brininger. He had read of the case.

Saugerties Men Examined. James W. Cole of West Saugerties, a merchant, also was challenged for bias as he had formed an opinion and it would require evidence to remove it.

W. Grant Cole, a farmer, of Saugerties, also would require an eye witness. He had read of the case and formed an opinion and would require evidence to remove the opinion which he had formed. Mr. Cole was also ill and did not wish to sit upon the jury. He was challenged for bias by the defense and excused.

Oliver Holder, a stone cutter, of Saugerties, would require an eye witness and was challenged by the People.

Orsen Barnhardt of Lew Beach did not know of the case, had never read or heard of it. He was not acquainted with Mr. Brininger or Mayor Canfield and would render a verdict according to his conscience.

INSPECTION DAY FOR CITY HOSPITAL

Open House Saturday Afternoon to Mark 24th Anniversary of Laying of Cornerstone and Completion of Addition.

Tomorrow, Saturday, April 21, is the 24th anniversary of the laying of the cornerstone of the Kingston City Hospital. In commemoration of this event, the new addition to the hospital, just completed and furnished, will be thrown open to the public from two to five in the afternoon.

Every adult person in the city will be welcome to pass through the building and see the splendid equipment Kingston has for the war that is always with us—the war against sickness and injury. There will be a reception committee consisting of members of the Ladies' Auxiliary and Nurses' Alumni Association. These ladies will act as hostesses and as guides throughout the building. The doctors on the staff of the hospital will all be present and the board of managers. Entrance will be through the front door, although the old part of the building (being still in process of repair) will not be on exhibition. It is hoped that guests will come early, as the reception must be ended promptly at five owing to the patients' supper hour. There to five are the hours. The ladies who will receive are Mrs. George Chandler, Mrs. T. J. Hickey, Mrs. G. D. B. Hasbrouck, Mrs. C. E. Hasbrouck, Mrs. Charles Tappan. The above are officers of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

The following are representatives of the Graduate Nurses' Alumni Association: Miss Deike, Mrs. John Rhodie, Mrs. Chester Osterhout, Mrs. W. C. Hussey, Miss Keating and Miss Murphy. Also the following members of the auxiliary: Mrs. James A. Betts, Mrs. E. E. Norwood, Mrs. James I. Nelson, Mrs. Daniel Connolly, Mrs. Frank Keator, Mrs. G. W. Ross, Mrs. A. S. Vrooman, Mrs. John B. MAN WOUNDED BY MILITIAMAN DIES

Shooting Accidental According to Anti-Mortem Statement—Charged Against Catskill Soldier May be Charged to Manslaughter.

Joseph Scarlonto, of 235 Washington street, Newburgh, who was wounded by Private Lawrence C. Pangay of Company E, Tenth Regiment, N. G. N. Y., of Catskill, on Tuesday afternoon, died in St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, Thursday morning. The charge against the militiaman, who is responsible for the shooting, which is thought to have been accidental—a statement from him the dead man vindicated him entirely—has heretofore been assault in the first degree, and may now be changed to manslaughter. The hearing which was to have been held today before Recorder Cantline has been postponed until Tuesday morning, because of the fact District Attorney Irtchberg has engagements out of town today and Saturday and Coroner Norman DuBois will hold the inquest Monday. James Williamson, clerk to the district attorney, is working on the case. Captain Cassidy, of Company E, Tenth Infantry, at Burns House on the Little Britain Road, was notified by the district attorney's office of the death of Scarlonto. The deceased was 33 years of age, having been born in Italy.

Red Cross News to Date. Hereafter, or until the work crowds more than at present, those who are devoting themselves to the cutting of materials for the surgical dressings at Wilkryck Chapter House, will have a monopoly of the work in the mornings. By devoting themselves exclusively to the cutting in the mornings, it will be possible to be ready for the workers in the afternoons. This plan will also relieve many of the women who have found it so very difficult to get to the chapter house in the morning, thus enabling them to devote more time and effort to the afternoon work.

The new members to date are Mrs. Ida Brower, E. B. Schepmoes, Mrs. M. L. Goldrick, Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Huhne, Miss Harriet Bruskil, Mrs. H. F. Pitts, Miss Miriam Pitts, M. E. Stanborough and Miss Edith Stanborough.

Red Cross at Stone Ridge. Saturday evening there will be a patriotic rally at Stone Ridge and Roger Loughran of this city will represent the Red Cross at this meeting and will tell of the work and needs of the organization which is now such an important factor in the war situation.

Home Defense Committee Takes Action to Enroll Every Man and Woman in Ulster County, Between Ages of 16 and 50, and Volunteers Are Asked to Assist in Important Work.

Major George Chandler was appointed director of the military census for Ulster county by the Home Defense Committee Thursday afternoon. Major Chandler will determine upon the plan to be adopted in taking the military census, details of which work were outlined in a report made by Former Congressman Frank J. LeFevre of New Paltz, of the Home Defense Committee, who attended a meeting of representatives of all the counties of the state held at Albany on Monday.

What the Military Census Means. About four hundred people were present at the meeting, Mr. LeFevre reported, all the counties having from two to five delegates. Adjutant General Stotrubus addressed the delegates, principally on the military census and inventories.

A military census will be taken of all persons in the state, citizens and aliens, men and women, between the ages of 16 and 50. The date of the census is likely to be from May 10 and May 25—practically two weeks, and the census will take in about 45 per cent of the population of the state. The state officials should be notified by May first where to send the enrollment blanks.

Albany Will Look After Those Refusing to Answer.

There will be one hundred questions on each blank, all of which must be answered, and those who refuse to answer questions must be reported by the census enumerators to the Census Bureau at Albany, whose officials will take proper steps. The method by which the census is taken will be either by enumerators making a house to house canvass or at enrollment depots, the method to be determined by each county individually. Where enrollment depots are established, they must be furnished and provided with registers, tables, chairs, desks, etc. The state will furnish all blanks required, rubber stamps, leaflets, and instruction blanks. The enrollment card is to be signed in the presence of the enumerator. The committee is to put up notices of how the census is to be taken and every one between the ages of 16 and 50 must register.

Chance For Patriotism.

The state will not furnish any money for the expense of this census. All work of all kinds connected with it will be voluntary, and a patriotic spirit should make every one anxious to help.

The committee on home defense can accept voluntary contributions but must finance its own work. Help will be accepted from all people and organizations, such as the Red Cross, Boy Scouts, the Woman Suffrage Party, Women's Clubs, etc.

Enlistments to be Encouraged. The committee should encourage people to enlist in the army and navy, but not urge farmer's boys as they are needed at home.

The county will provide home defense companies with arms and uniforms, the adjutant general furnishing information as to where to obtain them. Officers will be assigned to drill them. This is a county expense.

Home Defense Companies will be of two classes: Class A, composed of men up to 45 years of age and liable to be sent anywhere; class B, composed of men beyond 45 years of age, and liable for home defense anywhere in the state.

Commissioner Wilson of the department of agriculture will look after the food supply, etc. The Home Defense Committee is to appoint sub-committees and will act as an executive committee, having charge of all sub-committees.

The enrollment blanks to be used in taking the military census will be in three colors; for men between the ages of 19 and 25, printed in red ink; for men over 25 years of age, in black ink; for women, in blue ink. The enrollment envelopes will be the same color as the blanks.

At the conclusion of Mr. LeFevre's report, a telegram having been received requesting immediate information of the name of the director of the military census, the committee discussed the matter of the director and appointed Major Chandler as such director.

Finance Committee Will be Important.

A communication from Albany in relation to the finance committee suggested that contributions be collected as soon as the amount needed for county headquarters is ascertained. Where contributions of money cannot be made, contributions of labor can be made by anyone.

Defense Corps—Major William J. Cranston of Kingston.

Military Committee—Major Chandler.

Committee on Co-operation of Charitable, Religious and Fraternal Organizations, Dependents, Employment Bureau and Red Cross Activities—Rev. John J. Hickey. Father Hickey has been a member of the Relief Committee organized some time ago and active in its affairs. Most of the members of that committee are members of the Home Defense Committee.

Recruiting Committee—Captain Frank L. Meagher of Kingston.

Committee on Food Production and Conservation—George Burgevin of Kingston.

Other Chairmen Will be Appointed. Judge Hasbrouck was authorized to appoint the chairmen of the other sub-committees which are to be appointed in accordance with the general plan of the state officials, and such chairmen will select ten associates whose appointment will be subject to the approval of the Home Defense Committee.

Offers of Aid Received.

Communications were received offering assistance to the Home Defense Committee from the Citizens' Committee of the town of Lloyd, headed by Luther D. Wilkoy; Poutney Higelow, for the use of 250 acres and a dock property on behalf of himself and Martin Cantine, for use in drilling; the Ulster County Medical Society, Lieutenant Rudolph Holsart, the Rev. Norman L. Hoyer, Agnes N. Brennan and the New York State Woman Suffrage Party. The Woman Suffrage Party offered the use of its lecture, Mrs. Kirby, who has been lecturing as a canvassing woman canvasser; also its aid in mobilizing the women of the county, and in furnishing an automobile and fresh garden seeds. The party asked that a mass meeting be called for the near future, to be addressed by Judge Hasbrouck, Mr. Stotrubus and others.

Martin Cantine also offered the aid of the town of Saugerties organization which has been effected on the election district plan, and explained the Saugerties plan and how it was proposed to conduct any work required by the Home Defense Committee in each of the nine election districts of the town, each district of which had been organized with sub-committees, whose responsibility for the work had been fixed and approved at the township meeting. The Saugerties plan has been reported by The Freeman.

Judge Hasbrouck invited all the members of the committee to attend the patriotic meeting to be held at the high school auditorium next Wednesday evening. All the members of the Home Defense Committee were present at the meeting. Captain Everett Fowler also was present and offered a number of suggestions regarding the work of organizing.

The committee will meet at the court house next Thursday afternoon at five o'clock.

The state's military authorities have completed the list of eighty-seven questions which are to be asked all male inhabitants between the ages of nineteen and twenty-five who are in military service is completed during the first two weeks of May. MACQUEEN AND EUROPEAN WAR

Peter MacQueen, who writes the "MacQueen and European War" column, gave an interesting talk at Chautauqua the high school on Thursday evening on the European war, illustrated with about two hundred photographs, mostly taken by himself while in Europe. He showed pictures of American invented weapons which had played a big part in the war across the pond. He told of the invention of Captain Lewis whose machine gun plays a big part in Belgium history. Lewis when he invented the gun took it to Washington to sell our government, but some high brow at Washington turned him down, saying the gun was no good. Captain Lewis then resigned from the army, went to Belgium, sold the gun and with the aid of the gun and Belgians kept back the hordes of German hosts for four days, giving the rest of Europe a chance of recovery from the shock and plunge into the war.

Another big gun, the largest used in the first two years of the war, was that of the Germans and that also was an American invention. A German-American invented it but our government refused to buy it and the inventor went to Europe and sold it to the Kaiser.

The musical part of the program was in charge of Pietro Mordella and his company. He is one of the most famous piano-accordion players in the country and gave a number of selections that took down the house. He was assisted by three young Italian girls, one playing the piano, one singing and one playing the violin, and the only trouble with their end of the program was that it was not long enough.

This evening Judith Dameron will sing. Josef Martin will show what he can do with the piano and Miss Anderson will play the flute. Also Mrs. Leonard M. Lake will speak for over an hour on "The Rights of the Child."

Additional Memberships.

The following are new or renewed members of the Red Cross Chapter in Kingston: Mr. and Mrs. George Honness, Dr. and Mrs. Mark O'Leary, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Hauck, E. B. Schepmoes, Mrs. M. L. Goldrick, Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Huhne, Miss Harriet Bruskil, Mrs. H. F. Pitts, Miss Miriam Pitts, M. E. Stanborough, Miss Edith Stanborough, Mrs. J. O. 600 GIVE US MEN APPEALS MEAGHER

Most Enthusiastic Patriotic Meeting Held at St. Mary's School at Which Dean Hickey Tells of Proffer of Benedictine Sanitarium and Church Buildings to Government.

Most enthusiastic and by far the best attended of the series of meetings being held in the various public and parochial schools of the city was that held by St. Mary's parochial school in St. Mary's Hall on Thursday evening. The hall was well filled with the children and their friends who were delightedly entertained by the program rendered. The Rev. Father Hickey, in opening the exercises, said it was not by accident that the anniversary of the battle of Lexington had been chosen for this meeting, which was for the purpose of emphasizing the fact that the spirit of liberty still survived and that we had inherited the responsibility of maintaining it.

Professor William H. Hickey presided at the piano and played the marches and accompaniments to the various exercises by the children, which opened with the singing of America. This was followed by the reading of President Wilson's proclamation by Edward Burns. A flag drill by the boys of the school in connection with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" was the next number which was followed by "Tuning Tonight on the Old Camp Ground."

Girls Scored a Hit. "Paul Rovere's Ride" was recited in concert by sixteen of the girls of the school in a manner that gave proof of the perfect training they had received. "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean" was then sung by the same girls, the Goddess of Liberty appearing at the proper time carrying a large American flag in lieu of the torch.

The singing of "Flags of Many Colors" with an appropriate drill closed the musical part of the program, all of which was enjoyed to the utmost and frequently interspersed with applause.

The Time for Action.

Captain Frank L. Meagher of Company M, made a patriotic address emphasizing the necessity for action and setting forth the lack of it. "By their deeds ye shall know them," was the keynote of his address, and those who came after us will know what we have done. This is the time for action. The time for mere flag-waving, speeches and parades is past. It is all right to wave the flag and parade but that is not enough. I was sent home to recruit my company to peace strength. I needed fifty men. I have been home a week and the total number recruited up to tonight is six men. We must have these men and we will have them. If they do not volunteer we will get them by other ways. We do not have to wait for a new law. Under an existing law the governor and mayor have the power to designate the men I want and, if these do not respond, the full force of the law will be exerted to compel them to.

How Women May Aid.

"This situation does not exist in Kingston alone but it is the same all over the state. I want fifty men by tomorrow night but I know I will not get them. The question is: What can you do, you who are not eligible for military service? If you are a mother, you can give your son and that will be enough and God bless you for it. If you have tears to shed, shed them after he has gone, send him away with a smile on your face. If you are a young woman and you have influence over a young man—and what young woman has not—tell him to enlist and if he does not go, tell him he need not come around any more."

"Some of you can be Red Cross nurses and you will receive as great credit as any man in the service. You can help in the military census that Major Chandler has just been appointed to take. Enumerators, stenographers, typewriters and clerks will be needed to work without pay. This is a real, necessary, patriotic service and you can render it."

"I want young men to fill up the company. I would rather have none over 25. This evening I passed two or three hundred of such young men on the street who have not responded. Why don't they respond? I don't know. Perhaps you can tell me."

"We want the young men to enlist now so that they can be trained and so that they and the rest of us can have a sporting chance of coming back home."

The Days of '98.

Father Hickey gave reminiscences of the leaving of the old Fourteenth Separate Company in the Spanish-American war in 1898 and spoke of the touching scenes in the sacristy the night before when the Catholic members of the company came to receive a parting blessing. On that occasion he asked one soldier whom he knew was under military age how he had managed to get himself accepted. The boy said, "Father, I lied. You know my age but the nation doesn't know it and I want to serve my country."

He announced that St. Mary's parish offers seven acres of flat garden land near the corner of Flat-bush and Foxhall avenues for the Chamber of Commerce garden movement. Also that the vacant building adjoining the church was at the disposal of the authorities for headquarters for the census takers or for any other purpose; that the parish building in Poughkeepsie was at the

RUSSIA SOURCE OF CONCERN TO U. S. A.

Washington, April 20.—The Russian situation is causing concern to officials here. Failure of the provisional government to reconcile the differences between itself and the radicals is interfering with the reorganization of the Russian army. In addition the Socialistic element is known to be intriguing against the provisional government and utilizing all of its efforts in advocacy of making a separate peace with Germany.

While officials generally believe that eventually a solid government will be formed in Russia, they are not losing sight of the fact that the present situation is filled with dangerous possibilities. Ambassador Francis is keeping in the closest touch with the situation and all of his reports are transmitted directly to the president. Meanwhile Petrograd advises indicate that Germany shortly will attempt a drive directly against the Russian capital.

Because of the possibilities of the Russian situation officials are awaiting with the greatest interest the unassuming here of the international war conference which is to dispose of many problems which are facing the government. In connection with active participation in the war it is hoped that as soon as the commission gets down to business—just when still is a secret known only to the state department—it will be possible to get an outline of the general questions that will be discussed.

The cabinet meeting today was scheduled to consider certain questions affecting the conference. It was not expected, however, that any matters of a military character would be disposed of because Secretary of War Baker is in West Point participating in the exercises accompanying the early graduation of the first class of cadets.

The economic problem so far as this country is concerned was occupying the attention of the administration today. The announcement by Howard E. Coffin that there is real danger from hysterical and ill-considered economy and interference with normal pursuits came as a distinct surprise to most officials here. Coffin said it was with the statement that already many factories in central west are being closed, it brought a distinct warning home to officials generally and it is expected that steps will be taken to remedy as much as possible this condition of affairs.

In this connection it was stated today that the administration has received assurances from congressional leaders that the legislation which is deemed necessary to give the government firm control of the food situation will be passed without a very serious fight.

BRISK TRADING IN RAILROAD STOCKS

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, April 20.—The clouding of the ruling made by the interstate commerce commission yesterday nullified good effects for a time after the opening of the stock market today and substantial advances in the initial trading were lost when stocks were supplied in a large volume by speculative interests which have been noted as fighting all advances for months past. There was brisk trading in Union Pacific, which rose 7 1/2 to 138 1/2. New York Central opened up 1 1/2 at 95 1/2 from which it reacted to 94 1/2. Reading opened 1 1/2 higher at 56 1/2, then dropped to 55 1/2. There was heavy trading in U. S. Steel Common which opened up 1/2 at 112 1/2, reacted to 111 1/2, from which it quickly advanced to 112 1/2. New Haven was again under pressure and after opening 1 1/2 higher at 41, dropped to 39 1/2. After the reactions from the opening range, the market developed a firmer tone and another upward movement was in progress at the end of the first quarter of an hour.

service of the government for any use to which it might be put. In the event of hostilities it might be used as a home for convalescents. The Benedictine Sanitarium offered to turn over its entire property for the use of the nation in the event of war. After an address on the food shortage and the need for everyone to contribute his mite toward averting famine by planting and cultivating every available foot of ground, the exercises were closed by the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

AN UPRISING

NEVER since the day that Mother Earth went a-whirling has a healthier or more promising discontent made inroads into the souls of men than is manifested today—an unrest and uprisal against the paralysis of self-resignation. We have too long believed ourselves the playthings of fate. As men exert the force of their will-power they become makers of their own destinies. We brew

THE KITCHEN CABINET

Remembrance is the sweetest flower. Of all this world's perfume. Memory guards it, sun or shower; Friendship keeps it blooming.

DESSERTS AND OTHER GOOD THINGS.

An unusual way of serving rice in pudding is the following: Season one pint of apple sauce with fourth of a cupful of sugar, an eighth of a teaspoonful of cloves and a teaspoonful of cinnamon. Add a pint of cold cooked rice and a half cupful of seeded raisins. Put all in a well buttered baking dish, dot with bits of butter and bake. Serve hot or very cold with cream.

Apricot Dessert.—Moisten two tablespoonfuls of gelatin with one-half cupful of cold milk, add one and a half cupfuls of hot milk scalded in a double boiler. Soak twelve apricots overnight in water to cover. Boil five minutes in the same water with a half cupful of sugar. Use more if the fruit is very acid. Carefully peel the apricots, mesh, add two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice and mix with the milk and gelatin. Mold to harden. When serving, turn out the mold on a platter and garnish with sweetened whipped cream. Sprinkle with two tablespoonfuls of chopped pistachio nuts.

Pineapple Supreme.—Grate a pineapple or use a can of grated pineapple; add sugar to sweeten. Soak two tablespoonfuls of gelatin in a little water and add to a cupful of hot milk. Cool and add the pineapple, then stir in a pint of whipped cream. Pack in a mold and set away in ice and salt to become firm. Occasionally open and stir down from the sides. When serving heap on small platters, mark with a fork to imitate the whole pineapple, sprinkle with macaroon crumbs and decorate with a few green stems cut from citron.

AN UPRISING

NEVER since the day that Mother Earth went a-whirling has a healthier or more promising discontent made inroads into the souls of men than is manifested today—an unrest and uprising against the paralysis of self-resignation. We have too long believed ourselves the playthings of fate. As men exert the force of their will-power they become makers of their own destinies. We brow

THE KITCHEN CABINET

Remembrance is the sweetest flower Of all this world's perfuming. Memory guards it, sun or shower; Friendship keeps it blooming.

DESSERTS AND OTHER GOOD THINGS.

An unusual way of serving rice in pudding is the following: Season one pint of apple sauce with fourth of a cupful of sugar, an eighth of a teaspoonful of cloves and a teaspoonful of cinnamon. Add a pint of cold cooked rice and a half cupful of seeded raisins. Put all in a well buttered baking dish, dot with bits of butter and bake. Serve hot or very cold with cream.

Apricot Dessert.—Moisten two tablespoonsful of gelatin with one-half cupful of cold milk, add one and a half cupfuls of hot milk scalded to a double boiler. Soak twelve apricots overnight in water to cover. Boil five minutes in the same water with a half cupful of sugar. Use more if the fruit is very acid. Carefully peel the apricots, mash, add two tablespoonsful of lemon juice and mix with the milk and gelatin. Mold to harden. When serving, turn out the mold on a platter and garnish with sweetened whipped cream. Sprinkle with two tablespoonsful of chopped pistachio nuts.

Pineapple Supreme.—Grate a pineapple or use a can of grated pineapple; add sugar to sweeten. Soak two tablespoonsful of gelatin in a little water and add to a cupful of hot milk. Cool and add the pineapple, then stir in a pint of whipped cream. Pack in a mold and set away in ice and salt to become firm. Occasionally open and stir down from the sides. When serving heap on small plates, mark with a fork to imitate the whole pineapple, sprinkle with macaroon crumbs and decorate with a few green stems cut from citron.

German Cheese Cakes.—Beat the yolks of four eggs with a pound of cottage cheese, eight tablespoonsful (half a cupful) each of flour and sugar. Add a little salt, a pinch of ground mace or nutmeg and lastly the whites of the eggs beaten stiff. Add sufficient milk to make a batter the consistency of griddle cakes. Line a baking tin with a sheet of buttered paper, spread the mixture uniformly thick, sprinkle with ground cinnamon and a few currants over the top and bake in a moderate oven.

KINGSTON, N. Y., APRIL 20, 1917.

Accord's action in agricultural mobilization within a few hours after the sessions of the Farmers' Emergency Conference is a happy augury for the success of this momentous movement. Accord proved true to name. Not only did her citizens rally with surprising promptness to the call, but the program of activities outlined is sufficient assurance that this community will do its part in meeting the food crisis that the nation must face within the year. The Minute Men of Concord were no more ready than these progressive villagers. The contrast between wives and farm implements is sharp, but there is no incongruity in the enlistment of every person able to wield a hoe in the patriotic service entailed in the production of greater crops. Tomorrow, Farm Mobilization Day, we trust will find every Ulster county town and village in line with the proclamations of President Wilson and Governor Whitman, to nothing of happy Accord.

In any emergency, the taking of stock is an imperative preliminary. For this reason, the farm census about to be taken throughout the State is of paramount importance. By this method, an inventory of seed on hand and the areas to be planted to the more important staples will be made available. For instance, in Ulster county, it would be folly if every farmer should at once triple his planting of perishable and semi-perishable crops and cause an over-production that would be wasteful in the extreme. We know that the planting of grain cannot be overdone and that corn should have one of the greatest plantings in history. Through the information furnished by a census, farmers can learn what other crops to plant and the quantities can be figured in such a way as to assure a profit and at the same time best serve the requirements of the situation. Hence, everyone should co-operate in every possible way with the census takers who will begin their duties within the next few days. The work must be done now, if at all. It must be done accurately, if it is to prove useful. The plain duty of every farmer is to aid in every way in the taking of this, the first census of New York State's agricultural resources.

Chicago retailers are restricting sales of sugar, flour, soap and canned goods, permitting only a small quantity of each to be sold to a customer, in order to prevent stocking up by individuals, which is a contributing cause to food panics. In effect it is the same theory that is successfully applied to coal distribution in Kingston in times of scarcity. Some such limitation will be inevitable all over the country within a few months and bread and meat cards may be a resort of the Government in case of the war being prolonged. Fortunately, the summer is before us with its green vegetable substitutes for meat and heavy food diets, to say nothing of the growing season of which Kingston, in common with the rest of the country, is planning to take full advantage. Thousands of households are going to be more independent than ever before this year if expectations of home garden crops are fulfilled. In this way city dwellers, who are sufficiently energetic, can cease their worrying over the prospective high cost of canned goods and staple vegetables, secure in the knowledge that their own garden products will meet the family demands through one winter at least.

One thing that is worthy of notice in connection with household economy, is the apparent thought given to the subject by so many women. Not only is the elimination of waste receiving attention, but a return to some of the ordinary duties of the housewives of several generations ago is in prospect. We know of one Kingston matron who makes her own soap, and very good soap it is, too. Perhaps it will be candles next, as well as the making of bandages and mending of socks. A state of war is bound to bring many changes into the life of every individual citizen but, even with universal service in effect, together with taxes reaching down to $1,500 annual incomes, no more revolutionary change may be expected than in the adjustment of American households to meet the new conditions. From a nation of wasters, the war's necessities for conservation of every resource may prove the salvation of America, economically, industrially and socially.

The death of Edmund C. C. Genet, an American pilot in the Lafayette Escadrille who was killed in an aerial duel with a German aeroplane in France on Monday, has a peculiar claim on the sympathies of Hudson Valley folk, as not only was the young man a former resident of this section, but in his veins flowed the blood of General George Clinton, New York's Revolutionary Governor, and he was a descendant of Citizen Genet, French Minister to this country during the Revolution, as well. Twenty years old, young Genet's unhappily terminated career was filled with incidents that would be considered noteworthy if distributed through the course of an ordinary lifetime. He was a resident of Ossining and had served in the naval militia, afterward becoming a seaman aboard the Texas, during which period he participated in the landing at Vera Cruz. When the world war broke out, his release was secured that he might fight for the land of his ancestors. During his service as one of the American volunteers in the Foreign Legion, young Genet was rendered unconscious by the rush of air from an exploding bomb during the battle of Champagne in October, 1915. He recovered in time to join a body of Colonials following his regiment. Genet's ambition was to fight against the Germans under the American flag and it is likely that his ambition was realized, as the Stars and Stripes are now flown along that long battle line in France. Blood will tell. It is in the sacrifices made by young Americans of Genet's type that the best traditions of our country are borne out. There will be more of such, but in the end the goal will be achieved and such sacrifices justified.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

Bud: "Aw, you're givin' me the littlest piece." Sis: "Never mind. I'll bite a piece off mine, 'n' then they'll be both the same."

"I want to look at some note paper." "Watered stock, madam?" "I should say not. My husband has wasted money enough on that kind."

Physician: "Did your husband follow my directions, taking his medicine religiously?" Wife: "I fear not, doctor. He swore every time I gave him a dose."—Puck.

A Wonderful Thing.

A camera man, working for the educational department of a film company, met the county clerk (not Bill Kelly!), coming out of the court house the other day and explained his presence thus:

"I have just been taking some moving pictures of life in your office."

"Did you catch any of my men busy on the books?" asked the county clerk curiously.

"Yes," was the reply.

The clerk shook his head reflectively, and then said:

"Science is a wonderful thing!"—Brooklyn Citizen.

Amusement.

An ardent uplift worker sat in the midst of the McNamara family, expostulating with them in a pained voice. "You should provide some kind of wholesome amusement for your family," said the philanthropist, sternly, to the abashed McNamara. "You should do something to lighten the burden of toil. Every life needs a little sunshine in it."

"Oh, missus," chimed up one of the girls, "we has lots of fun. There's always a fight or somethin' entertainin' goin' on in the tenement. Why, only last week a gentleman stabbed a woman, then shot her and dragged her past our door."—Harper's Magazine.

Puzzling Entry.

In the bureau of the census at Washington acts against the law are recorded under a few general heads, such as murder, burglary, etc.

An officer of the bureau tells of a woman clerk who was puzzled by an entry she encountered in one of her slips. The crime, as set down was "Running a blind tiger." After due reflection the woman placed it under the head "Cruelty to Animals."—Exchange.

Onto Her Job.

"But you can cook?" asked the prosaic young man.

"Let us take these questions up in their proper order," returned the wise girl. "The matter of cooking is not the first thing to be considered."

"Then, what is the first?" he demanded.

"Can you provide the things to be cooked?"—Exchange.

ULSTER IS ASKED TO "GROW CORN"

Chamber of Commerce Co-operates
With Farm Bureau in Furnishing
Cards to be Posted in the Towns.

"Grow Corn," is one of the messages to be sent through Ulster county by the Farm Bureau through Manager W. H. Hook, these cards having been provided by the Chamber of Commerce. They are of large size and in color, the legend being as follows:

"For the sake of the Army and Navy, our allies, and our friends and relatives in town, GROW CORN, raise livestock and prevent food waste."

These cards will be posted through the various townships and will, it is believed, prove useful in the campaign for crops.

U. S. Asks for Corn.

The secretary of agriculture has issued the following statement in connection with corn growing:

Corn is America's most important cereal. It can be grown successfully over a wider area than any other and furnishes nutritious food for man as well as the staple grain feed for cattle and draft animals. The production of corn should be increased this year to the fullest extent, taking into consideration seed, labor, and existing economic conditions, and the availability of good land in corn growing regions not needed more urgently for other crops. The acreage may well be increased in most of the country east of the 100th meridian, as corn, in general, thrives in this region.

An appreciable increase in the corn crop is most feasible, however, in the sections of highest corn production. Favorable growing conditions exist in such regions; farmers there are familiar with corn-growing; they have the necessary equipment available, and have adapted corn production to prevailing economic conditions. Farmers in such regions, through many years of experience, have learned methods of successfully combating adverse conditions. They know that the planting of viable, tested seed in well-tilled, friable soil, immediate replanting of missing hills, and early and continued cultivation of the fields count for much in the ability of the plants to produce a bountiful yield. This knowledge should be put to good use during the coming season in order that however unfavorable conditions may be production of an exceptionally large crop may be assured.

In practically every county in the country in which experience has shown that corn may be produced successfully, the possibilities of increasing the corn crop without encroaching upon other important crops is at least worthy of consideration, if land, labor, and seed are available.

"Your father was killed by Charles Morton!" Morton confesses he is the son of the accused. The avowal of love. Hopkins dotes on custard pie. News of the Apache outbreak. Morton goes to the rescue of his men. "If I die, clear my dead father's name."

BIG VERDICT FOR ALSEN FATALITY

After being out until 3:30 o'clock Thursday morning, the jury in the case of Victor Mantinovich, of Alsen, administratrix, against the New York Central Railroad Company, reached a verdict awarding the plaintiff $5,000 damages. The action against the railroad was tried before Judge Hasbrouck last November and resulted in a disagreement. The case grew out of an accident at Alsen railroad station, when Michael Mantinovich was killed by a West Shore express on December 10, 1915. He had just driven to the station in an automobile and he was killed when his car was struck at the grade crossing.

The plaintiff was represented by John C. Robinson and Gilbert B. Steiner, of New York, and the railroad company by Counselor Amos Van Eiten of Kingston.

Four Alleged Spies Arrested.

New York, April 20.—Three men and a woman, alleged German spies, were arrested by federal authorities early today. The names of the prisoners are withheld. Two of the men were arrested in New York and the third in a Hoboken rooming house. The woman, who gave the name of von Hertz, was arrested in a New Rochelle lodging house. The arrests followed a search of German ships at Hoboken.

Worldly Anxiety.

A little girl of Malda Vale was asking questions in regard to her father's brothers and sisters. She elicited the circumstance that one of them went back to heaven soon after he was born. "Hard luck!" she remarked. "Very hard luck, indeed, I hope," she went on, earnestly. "I do hope grandpa got his money back!"—Lloyd's News.

Not Too Blind.

Passerby—I thought you were blind. Mendicant—Well, sir, times is so hard and competition is so great that even a blind man has to keep his eyes open nowadays if he wants to do any business at all.

The Big Ester.

He (despondingly)—My dear, we really must economize. Now, what can we get along without? She—I really don't know, Frank, unless it's your appetite.

A Quaint Introduction.

Clarence King, the ethnologist, once wrote from San Francisco to John May the following letter of introduction: "My Dear John—My friend, Horace P. Cutter, in the next geological period will be dead. It would be a catastrophe if he did not know you. Less I should not be there to expose Mr. Cutter's alias, I take this opportunity to divulge to you that the police are divided in opinion as to whether he is Socrates or Don Quixote. I know better; he is both."

In No Hurry.

"Your self control is remarkable. You have been trying to get that telephone number for about twenty minutes, yet you have not lost your temper."

"Don't give me credit for being patient until you know the facts in this case. I've been trying to call up my dentist and tell him I would be down in a few minutes."—Exchange.

Extremely Polite.

He was a man noted for his ultra-refined manners, and he had been very ill.

"You were at death's door," remarked the doctor as his patient began to mend.

"Really, doctor?" came the reply. "I was happy to know whether I was left my cat?"—Boston Transcript.

DASHING NEW YORK CAVALRY WOMEN MAKE FIRST APPEARANCE.

Twenty-eight dashing young horse-women, comprising the cavalry division of the American Women's League for Self-Defense, aroused much admiration when they appeared for the first time in public in a march down Broadway, New York. The girls wear the regulation cavalry uniform, boots, breeches and tight-fitting blouse. They wear their hair wound tight above their heads.

SCHOOL OFFICIALS AID FARM CENSUS

District Superintendents Send Out
Directions to Teachers to Expedite
Important Work in Food Supply
Campaigns.

The four district superintendents of schools in Ulster county, acting under orders from the State Education Department, have directed public school teachers to co-operate with Manager W. H. Hook of the Ulster County Farm Bureau, who is in charge of the taking of the farm census in Ulster county, and have issued the following letter of instructions to principals and teachers:

Kingston, N. Y., April 19, 1917.
To the Principals and Teachers of
Ulster County.

As you know the United States is now in a state of war. The shortage of food now and the impending shortage of food are the most serious problems that have confronted the nation and the world since the Civil War.

The governor of the state of New York, in view of the impending crisis has appointed a Patriotic Agricultural Service Committee. This committee recognizes that the most important step, to be taken before other action is considered to overcome the shortage, is to ascertain the true condition now of our agricultural resources. In order that the already acute labor situation may not be intensified by withdrawing men from agricultural production to take the census, the Patriotic Agricultural Service Committee have arranged to take this census through the schools of the state.

Dr. John H. Finley, commissioner of education in a telegram just received has directed that all superintendents of schools, principals, teachers and pupils shall immediately gather the agricultural data required. The Official County Enumerator of Census, W. H. Hook has appointed the following men in our districts as township directors of census.

Denning—Directors, L. F. Bennett, Norman DuBois, Claryville, Sunday. Esopus—Director, John Herring, Ulster Park.

Gardiner—Director, Joseph Deyo, Gardiner.

Hardenbergh—Directors, Ellisworth Gavette, Turnwood, Wilbert Utter, Dry Brook, Verner Marks, Belle Ayre.

Hurley—Director, Augustus Elmen-dorf, Kingston, Box 694.

Kingston Town—Director, Miss Emily S. Burnett, Kingston.

Lloyd—Director, W. Jack Weaver, Highland.

Marlborough—Director, J. A. Hepworth, Milton.

Marbletown—Director, C. C. Hardenbergh, Stone Ridge.

New Paltz—Director, I. C. Barnes, New Paltz.

Olive—Director, J. V. Merrihew, Olive Bridge.

Plattekill—Director, J. E. Hasbrouck, Jr., Modena.

Rosendale—Director, J. M. Schoon-maker, Accord.

Rosendale—Director, Nathaniel DuBois, Bloomington.

Saugerties—Director, Harry Wells, Saugerties, R. F. D.

Shandaken—Director, Wallace J. Andrews, Oliveira.

Shawangunk—Directors, J. G. Petherbridge, Rev. Garret De Mott, Walkkill.

Ulster—Director, William Trueman, Lake Katrine.

Wawarsing—Director, Chester Young, Napanoch.

Woodstock—Director, C. L. Shufelt, Zena.

The director in your township will answer your questions and settle the questions of any of the patrons of your schools in regard to the necessity or the value of this census. Upon receipt of this letter organize your district so that you will know how many blanks will be required, using one for each farm of three acres or more on which agricultural operations are conducted, or any parcel of land which requires the entire time of one man. You will then be prepared to tell your township director when he requires it the number of blanks necessary for your district.

Further organize your district so that you know to what farmers blanks may be sent by the children in your school and to what farms you will need to send blanks by some other means and make provision for sending them.

The value of this whole census depends entirely upon promptness and accuracy. If necessary you are authorized to close school not to exceed three afternoons in order to expedite this work. You should have school in the morning and keep the record of attendance the same as on any other day, counting each one as a full day both for attendance and for salary.

Choose the older and more capable of your pupils to assist you as enumerators in this work. Be sure they are thoroughly familiar with the blank before taking data. The plan is that the enumerator asks the questions of the farmer and records the answers or that the blank is filled out by the farmer in the presence of the enumerator.

If possible the blanks will be in your hands before school closes Monday. If not begin work as soon as the blanks arrive. The work of taking data should be finished by Wednesday noon. Another blank will be furnished you upon which to tabulate the results for your district. Your work of tabulation must be finished by Thursday night.

Mail the completed summary sheet for your district at once to the county enumerator, W. H. Hook, Kingston, N. Y. He must tabulate the data for all the districts in the county and must send in his report by Saturday, April 28th. This is a war measure and promptness is absolutely required.

Mail the completed census blanks to your district superintendent in the Manila envelope furnished. Postage required for mailing will be returned to you.

Patriotic meetings have been called or held in your district as follows: Meetings to be held on Saturday, April 21, 1917: Denning—Sundown, church hall.

KINGSTON, N.Y.

WALTON PROTECTS ANGLERS' RIGHTS

Governor's Power to Suspend Ashokan Reservoir Privileges Limited to Present Year—Senator Walton Cuts Ice for Anglers.

Senator Walton has again demonstrated that the people of Ulster made no mistake in re-electing him to the senate. In the latter part of March Assemblyman Ellenbogen and Senator Boyd introduced in both houses of the legislature a bill to suspend the right to fish, boat or cut ice on the reservoirs of the city of New York, and including the Ashokan reservoir.

By the provisions of the bill as introduced, the governor could, at any time when he deemed an emergency to exist for any reason, to prevent boating, fishing or ice cutting upon all the lakes and reservoirs of the water supply of the city of New York, notwithstanding the provisions of chapter 724 of the laws of 1905, as amended by chapter 316 of the laws of 1906, which specifically provides that the residents of Ulster county shall have the right to fish upon the Ashokan reservoir. In view of the fact that the state of New York is at the present time paying the militia to guard the reservoir, it would, of course, be at least inconsistent not to restrict fishing at the present time, but to give to the governor the unrestricted power to prevent it at any time when he might see fit, would be rather broad authority, and if at any time a governor should come from the city of New York, it might be disastrous to the interests of the people of Ulster county.

Senator Walton has succeeded in amending this bill so as to provide that the governor whenever public interest may demand it by reason of a state of war, riots or in case of epidemic or a prevalence of disease, prohibit fishing or boating upon the lakes and reservoirs of the city of New York during the existence of such emergency, and no longer, and providing that in any event this power so granted to the governor shall cease on the first day of January, 1918.

The bill as amended by Senator Walton will allow the governor to prevent fishing upon the Ashokan reservoir only during the season of 1917, which, of course, it is proper that he should have the power to prevent so long as the state is maintaining a military guard around it, both for the purpose of protecting the dams and dikes against injury by cranks, and also to prevent accidental shooting of innocent fishermen by the guards, which might easily occur through accident.

Although Mrs. Plantz had been quite ill for the past two weeks not many in the village were aware that her condition was considered serious. The funeral will be held from her home on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. We extend our sincere sympathy to the husband and daughter and mother, sister and brother, in this time of sorrow.

LATTINGTOWN.

Lattintown, April 19.—This spring the weather is similar to political and military affairs in the past—rather backward.

Farm help is quite scarce for this season in this vicinity, owing to higher wages paid in the cities.

James Riely and family have moved to the Hartshorn large dairy and grain farm south east of the valley, which Mr. Riely's two sons, Will and Henry, have purchased for $1,000. They will sell or rent their small place here.

John McGowan and Bart are now home, the former for a brief visit and the latter to stay home for the summer.

Miss Cora Mackey of Poughkeepsie has visited her parents and Wilbur also.

Miss Reardon having spent Easter home, the pupils had a vacation of two school days.

Captain and Mrs. Smith of Bay Ridge, N. Y., have visited their daughter, Mrs. L. W. Craft.

William Kaley is to purchase a Buick touring car for his family.

An Italian funeral of a child passed through here Sunday, April 8, from Milton, with Mr. Woolsey as undertaker.

Rev. Mr. Volght, the new minister of the Milton M. E. Church, preached an excellent sermon from the text, "Rejoice with them that rejoice and weep with them that weep" in that edifice last Sunday to a large congregation.

Spraying seems to be one of the chief occupations of the fruit growers in this section now.

The lowering of the steep grade on the road running from V. V. Mackey's to C. A. Woolley's tenant house progresses slowly as the commissioner with his assistants have to work elsewhere. The stones on one side of the road are covered with dirt which makes traveling possible.

All teachers living in the state though many probably had not taught twenty years nor received diplomas from the normal schools, especially old ones who had done faithful work in the common back district schools, should have in proportion to the number of terms taught received some benefit from the teachers' compensation law.

The Czar of Russia though considered very weak minded or being influenced by his German wife and German admirers, did one good thing before his unfortunate abdication of the Russian throne—banished rum from the people.

The Wilsonian administration has not caught Villa asleep or awake yet, nor made the Mexican government salute the Stars and Stripes, but with the whole nation and the navy and army backing it, it ought to take a German regiment or so and sink a half dozen German submarines within the next six months.

Sunday was a great day for the number of automobiles seen in this neighborhood and on the state road.

Patriotism in this modern age is not entirely with the flag, but in raising enough food from unused land to support those who carry it.

Spencer's Business School Notes.

The following students and graduates of Spencer's Business School have been located in good business positions with well known commercial houses within the past few days:

Miss Clarice Riley of the stenographic department has secured a permanent, well paying position as stenographer and typist with the Oxford Basket and Box Manufacturing Company, Oxford, N. Y.

Edward Fiechge, a graduate of the shorthand department of Spencer's School, has obtained a satisfactory, permanent position as stenographer and office assistant with the Cornell Steamboat Company, 104 East Strand, this city.

Miss Emma Roberts, of the business department of Spencer's School, has been located with the J. Davis Manufacturing Company, Broadway, serving in the capacity as bookkeeper and office assistant.

Miss Ida Shaw of the shorthand department has been doing temporary stenographic work for the Everett & Treadwell Company, Broadway. Her employers speak in high terms of her qualifications.

Miss Carrie Messinger and Miss Olga Salzmann are filling temporary positions with the Ulster County Farm Bureau, John and Crown streets, this city.

Two excellent positions for male stenographers are now open. Spencer's needs more bright young men to train for good positions, and it needs them right away, as the demand is constantly increasing for the well trained Spencer's graduates.

Other graduates of the school have been located in better positions, and their names will be published in due course of time.

Spencerian penmanship diplomas have been awarded to Ricardo Puig and Ralph Finnigan. Excellent work is being done in the practical penmanship department, and it is expected that other students will secure passing marks very shortly.

Eugene McConnell, who is employed by the North River Coal Company, was recently promoted and is now holding a position as agent for the company at Whitehall, N. Y.

Loren Ennist, an experienced graduate, has secured an excellent position with the New York Central Railroad Company, New York city.

Miss Helen Brodhead has secured a situation as stenographer with the Kingston Daily Express, Broadway.

Black Squegee Tread Red Side Walls

"Talking about Non-Skid Tires"

It seems to me that some tire manufacturers just cut out the raised tread pattern on their tires with a jig-saw at random; while others figure out the tread formation as common sense directs.

The Diamond "Squegee Tread" is surely a "reason why" tread. Look at the cross bars. When the weight of the car rests on them, they just naturally get a TOE HOLD on the pavement and stop forward slide.

Then look at the longitudinal bars. They are continually in contact with the pavement and not only stop side skid ALL THE TIME but roll along as smoothly as a plain tread tire.

So if you want a real non-skid tire, we'll sell you a Diamond at its "Fair-List" Price.

American Mineral Oil

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT

Use of Mineral Oil.

Dr. Le Tanneur contributes to the Paris Medical some practical points in the use of mineral oil in constipation. The oil, he says, is in no way digested or even modified by the juices of the stomach and intestines. It acts as a lubricant and nothing else, though it tends to heal abrasions of the intestinal wall caused by rough particles of food. The New York Medical Journal says mineral oil should be taken either before breakfast or after dinner, two tablespoonfuls being a dose. Its use should be continued every day for at least a fortnight, when the bowels will continue to work naturally without it, for the mineral oil is in no sense a cathartic, but it will cure constipation. KINGSTON, N. Y., APRIL 20, 1917.

Accord's action in agricultural mobilization within a few hours after the sessions of the Farmers' Emergency Conference is a happy augury for the success of this momentous movement. Accord proved true to name. Not only did her citizens rally with surprising promptness to the call, but the program of activities outlined in sufficient assurance that this community will do its part in meeting the food crisis that the nation must face within the year. The Minute Men of Concord were no more ready than these progressive villagers. The contrast between cities and farm implements is sharp, but there is no incongruity in the enlistment of every person able to wield a hoe in the patriotic service entailed in the production of greater crops. Tomorrow, Farm Mobilization Day, we trust will find every Ulster county town and village in line with the proclamations of President Wilson and Governor Whitman, to say nothing of happy Accord.

In any emergency, the taking of a census is an imperative preliminary. For this reason, the farm census about to be taken throughout the State is of paramount importance. By this method, an inventory of food on hand and the areas to be planted to the more important staples will be made available. For instance, in Ulster county, it would be folly if every farmer should at once triple his planting of perishable and semi-perishable crops and cause an over-production that would be wasteful in the extreme. We know that the planting of grain cannot be overdone and that corn should have one of the greatest plantings in history. Through the information furnished by a census, farmers can learn what other crops to plant and the quantities can be figured in such a way as to assure a profit and at the same time best serve the requirements of the situation. Hence, everyone should co-operate in every possible way with the census takers who will begin their duties within the next few days. The work must be done now, if at all. It must be done accurately. If it is to prove useful. The plain duty of every farmer is to aid in every way in the taking of this, the first census of New York State's agricultural resources.

Chicago retailers are restricting sales of sugar, flour, soap and canned goods, permitting only a small quantity of each to be sold to a customer, in order to prevent stockpiling by individuals, which is a contributing cause to food panics. In effect it is the same theory that is successfully applied to coal distribution in Kingston in times of scarcity. Some such limitation will be inevitable all over the country within a few months and bread and meat cards may be a resort of the Government in case of the war being prolonged. Fortunately, the summer is before us with its green vegetable substitutes for meat and heavy food diets, to say nothing of the growing season of which Kingston, in common with the rest of the country, is planning to take full advantage. Thousands of households are going to be more independent than ever before this year if expectations of home garden crops are fulfilled. In this way city dwellers, who are sufficiently energetic, can cease their worrying over the prospective high cost of canned goods and staple vegetables, secure in the knowledge that their own garden products will meet the family demands through one winter at least.

One thing that is worthy of notice in connection with household economy, is the apparent thought given to the subject by so many women. Not only is the elimination of waste receiving attention, but a return to some of the ordinary duties of the housewives of several generations ago in prospect. We know of one Kingston matron who makes her own soap, and very good soap it is, too. Perhaps it will be candles next, as well as the making of bandages and mending of socks. A state of war is bound to bring many changes into the life of every individual citizen, but even with universal service in effect, together with taxes reaching down to $1,500 annual incomes, no more revolutionary change may be expected than in the adjustment of American households to meet the new conditions. From a nation of wasters, the war's necessities for conservation of every resource may prove the salvation of America, economically, industrially and socially.

The death of Edmund C. C. Genet, an American pilot in the Lafayette Escadrille who was killed in an air duel with a German aeroplane in France on Monday, has a peculiar claim on the sympathies of Hudson Valley folk, as not only was the young man a former resident of this section, but in his veins flowed the blood of General George Clinton, New York's Revolutionary Governor, and he was a descendant of Citreus Genet, French Minister to this country during the Revolution, as well. Twenty years old, young Genet's unhappily terminated career was filled with incidents that would be considered noteworthy if distributed through the course of an ordinary lifetime. He was a resident of Ossining and had served in the naval militia, afterward becoming a seaman aboard the Texas, during which period he participated in the landing at Vera Cruz. When the world war broke out, his release was secured that he might fight for the land of his ancestors. During his service as one of the American volunteers in the Foreign Legion, young Genet was rendered unconscious by the rush of air from an exploding bomb during the battle of Champagne in October, 1915. He recovered in time to join a body of Colonials following his regiment. Genet's ambition was to fight against the Germans under the American flag and it is likely that his ambition was realized, as the Stars and Stripes are now flown along that long battle line in France. Blood will tell. It is in the sacrifices made by young Americans of Genet's type that the best traditions of our country are borne out. There will be more of such, but in the end the goal will be achieved and such sacrifice justified.

LITTLE LAGGERS.

"Bud—'Aw, you're givin' me the littlest piece." Sis—'Never mind, I'll bite a piece off 'nuff, 'nuff they'll be both the same."

"I want to look at some note paper." "Watered stock, madam?" "I should say not. My husband has wasted money enough on that kind."

Physician—"Did your husband follow my directions, taking his medicine religiously?" Wife—"I fear not, doctor. He swore every time I gave him a dose."

A Wonderful Thing.

A camera man, working for the educational department of a film company, met the county clerk (not "Bill Kelly"), coming out of the court house the other day and explained his presence thus:

"I have just been taking some moving pictures of life in your office."

"Did you catch any of my men busy on the books?" asked the county clerk curiously.

"Yes," was the reply.

"The clerk shook his head reflectively, and then said:

"Science is a wonderful thing!" Brooklyn Citizen.

Amusement.

An ardent uplift worker sat in the midst of the McNamara family, expounding with them in a pained voice. "You should provide some kind of wholesome amusement for your family," said the philanthropist, sternly, to the abashed McNamara. "You should do something to lighten the burden of toll. Every life needs a little sunshine in it."

"Oh, missus," chimed up one of the girls, "we has lots of fun. There's always a light or something 'entertainin' goin' on in the tenement. Why, only last week a gentleman stabbed a woman, then shot her and dragged her past our door."

Harper's Magazine.

Puzzling Entry.

In the bureau of the census at Washington acts against the law are recorded under a few general heads, such as murder, burglary, etc.

An officer of the bureau tells of a woman clerk who was puzzled by an entry she encountered in one of her slips. The crime, as set down was "Running a blind tiger." After due reflection the woman placed it under the head "Cruelty to Animals."

Exchange.

Onto Her Job.

"But you can cook?" asked the prosaic young man.

"Let us take these questions up in their proper order," returned the wise girl. "The matter of cooking is not the first thing to be considered."

"Then, what is the first?" he demanded.

"Can you provide the things to be cooked?"—Exchange.

THE GERMANY WE FIGHT.

Irving Cobb Gives Some Overseas Observations.

By Irving S. Cobb of the Vigilantes.
(By Courtesy of the Saturday Evening Post.)

We have got to remember that the Germany with which we have broken is not the Germany of Heine and Goethe and Haecel and Beethoven, not the Germany that gave us Steuben in the Revolutionary War, and Sigel and Schurz in the Civil War; not the Germany of the sentimental, chivalrous, lovable Saxon, or yet of the music-loving, home-loving Bavarian; not the Germany that was the birthplace of the kindly honorable, industrious, patriotic German-speaking neighbor round the corner from you—but the fanatical, tyrannical, power-mad, blood-and-iron Prussianized Germany of Bismarck and Von Bernhardi, of the Crown Prince and the Junkers—that passionate Prussianized Germany which for forty years through the instrumentality of its ruling classes—not necessarily its Kaiser, but its real ruling classes—has been jealously striving to pervert every native ounce of its scientific and its inventive and its creative genius out of the paths of progress and civilization and to join it into the grooves of the greatest automatic machine, the greatest organization for killing off human beings, the greatest engine of misbegotten and misdirected efficiency that was ever created in the world. Because we have an admiration for one of these two Germanys is no more a reason why we should abate our indignation and our detestation for the other Germany than that because a man loves a cheery blaze upon his hearthstone he should refuse to fight a forest fire.

We have got to remember another thing. If our overseas observations of this war abroad have taught us anything, they should have taught us that the German Army—and when I say army I mean in this case, not its men but its officers, since in the German Army the officers are essentially the brain and the power and the motive force directing the unthinking, blindly obedient mass beneath them—that the German Army is not an army of good sportsmen. And that, I take it, is an even more important consideration upon the field of battle than it is upon the athletic field. As the saying goes, the Germans don't play the game. It is as inconceivable to imagine German officers going in for baseball or football or cricket as it is to imagine American volunteers marching the goose step.

The Germans are not an outdoor race; they are not given to playing outdoor sports and abiding by the rules of those sports, as Englishmen and as Americans are. And in war—that biggest of all outdoor games—it stands proved against them that they do not play according to the rules, except they be rules of their own making. The German is a greedy winner and he is a bad loser—a most remarkable bad loser. Good sportsmen would not have broken Belgium into bloody bits because Belgium stood between them and their goal; good sportsmen would not have sung the Hymn of Hate, or made "Gott Strafe England!" their battle cry; good sportsmen would not have shot Edith Cavell or sunk the Lusitania. Good sportsmen would not have packed the helpless men and boys of a conquered and a prostrate land off as captives into an enforced servitude worse than African slavery; would not wantonly have wasted La Fere and Chauny and Ham, and a hundred other French towns, as they did last month, for no conceivable reason than that they must render these towns back into the hand of the enemy; would not, while ostensibly at peace with us, have plotted to destroy our industrial plants and to plant the seeds of sedition among our foreignborn citizens, and to dismember our country, parceling it out to a brown race in Mexico and a yellow race in Japan. Good sports do not do these things, and Germany did all of them. That means something.

ESOPUS.

Esopus, April 19.—Darius Wager has accepted a position in the paper mills at Salisbury Mills, Orange county. He will act as freeman.

Mrs. Raymond Dean of Kingston was a visitor at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Andrew Eyett, last week.

Among those who attended the party given for Miss Emma Fitzgerald in Old Fellows' Hall, Ulster Park, last week, were Miss Dorothy Fuchs, John Beaver, Jr., Paul Beaver, William Sotting and John Sotting of Esopus.

Mrs. Arthur Salmon came up from Brooklyn last week for her little son, Arthur, who had been spending his Easter vacation with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Eyett.

Fred Cole of Union Center spent Wednesday with his brother, Frank, at the home of the latter in this village.

Allen Bullen of Schenectady visited his parents at the parsonage on Saturday and in the afternoon went to Middlehope to spend a short time with friends at that place.

The Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Bullen left Esopus for Schenectady yesterday afternoon. Mr. Bullen entered the retired ranks at the late session of the New York conference, but at the earnest solicitation of Dr. Richard E. Bell, superintendent of the Kingston District, he will shortly assume the charge of the Methodist Church at Andes. His friends wish him success in his new field of labor.

The writer wishes to correct a slight mistake in last week's items. Miss Hazel Mott has not returned to her home in this village, but is still enjoying her stay at the home of her friend, Miss Fraleigh, at Red Hook, N. Y.

The Rev. J. J. Lyons, the newly appointed minister, occupied the pulpit of the Methodist Church last Sunday. Those who attended the services were pleased with the first appearance of their new pastor. Mr. Lyons comes from Ithaca and this is his first appointment in the New York conference. We earnestly wish for himself and family a happy and prosperous year.

Then there are fourteen great song-successes, sparkling with such hits as "Poor Butterfly" (beautifully sung by Charles Harrison), "For Me and My Gal," "Where the Black-Eyed Susans Grow," and "If I Had a Son for Each Star in Old Glory"; and six brilliant dances of the popularity of "It's Not Your Nationality." Violin gems played by Eddy Brown, the young genius; "Cohen on the Telephone" sketches; orchestral triumphs, vocal-whistling ensembles, hymns, and saxophone, cornet, accordion and Hawaiian novelties complete a list rich in variety and timely interest. STREET GOSSIP ABOUT TOWN

"There is no use talking," said the friend to the street corner politician, "but I won't be able to raise any potatoes in my backyard garden this year as I expected to."

"How is that?" queried the politician.
"I was looking over an agricultural book," explained the friend, "and it states potatoes must be planted in hills, and you know very well there is no hills around my house, it is all flat ground."

"Ha, ha," laughed the politician.
"What's the joke?" queried the friend.

"Your idea of planting potatoes," replied the politician.
"But I am right," persisted the friend, hauling a book out of his pocket and calling the politician's attention to what the printed page said.

"That's all right," said the politician, "but what it means is you must make little hills with your hoe and plant the potatoes in them. It doesn't mean they must be planted on the side of a hill or a mountain."

"I see," replied the friend, slightly crestfallen.
"Talking about planting potatoes," said the politician, "I was thinking of planting some, but my ground is rather dry and I am afraid I would not have much success."

"You never can tell," said the friend, "I'll try it." "That's so," remarked the politician hopefully, "and by the way maybe I have a good idea along that line."

"Shoot," responded the friend.

"Every one says potatoes have eyes," continued the politician.
"That's so," interrupted the friend.
"Now what if I don't have any eyes to plant one hill of potatoes and then a row of onions?" advanced the politician suggestively.

"What's the idea?" asked the friend, puzzled.

"Well you know the ground I have is rather dry," said the politician.
"Yes, go on," replied the friend.

"Well, why would it not be a good idea to plant as I just suggested?" explained the politician, "for the odor of the onion would undoubtedly make the eyes of the potato water, and that would help to moisture the ground."

"That's a fine idea," applauded the friend, slapping the politician on the back.
"The only trouble with it," replied the politician, "is that my wife who has spent some time on a farm, laughs at me when I suggest it."

"A woman always thinks she knows more than a man anyway," returned the friend.

"Getting away from the garden movement for a moment," said the friend, "what do you think of Chattanooga?"

"So far," replied the politician, "I thought the program rather enjoyable."

"It looks like they have got a good program this year at that," said the friend.

"There is only one thing I object to," said the politician.

"What is that?" asked the friend.
"The woman who attends who wants to sit up front and then refuses to remove her hat, causing the ones behind her to crane their necks out of shape to see what is going on on the stage," replied the politician.

"I was up against the same thing myself last night," interrupted the friend.

"It seems to me," said the politician, "that if a woman does not want to remove her hat she should be content to take a back seat."

"That is the woman of it," interrupted the friend.

"Sure," replied the politician, "and if she sat in the back seat she would be sure to take off her hat."

"They tell me that one objection to a county wide planting movement," said the friend, "is the lack of help."

"That should be easily overcome," replied the politician.

"What is your idea on the subject?" asked the friend.
"Make the jail prisoners work," replied the politician.

"What do you mean?" queried the friend.
"Well," replied the politician, "there is generally about twenty prisoners in jail from time to time, sent up on a charge of public intoxication."

"Yes," replied the friend.
"And they serve anywhere from ten to thirty days in the coop," said the politician.

"That is so," agreed the friend.
"Well," continued the politician, "that being so, if they were put out to work on farms it would mean just that much labor accomplished."

"The only trouble," argued the friend, "is the drunks are not capable of working."

"Yes, and they don't want to work," retorted the politician, "but by making them work you would soon have a smaller jail population for they would rather stay inside the jail idle than working outside."

"What do you mean?" asked the friend.
"If prisoners were made to work," replied the politician, "you would not hear of so many drunks being arrested, for they would rather stay sober and not work."

"Then you would have less laborers," argued the friend.
"Yes," agreed the politician, "but you would have less to feed in the jail."

ULSTER IS ASKED TO "GROW CORN"

Chamber of Commerce Co-operates
With Farm Bureau in Furnishing
Cards to be Posted in the Towns.

"Grow Corn." is one of the messages to be sent through Ulster county by the Farm Bureau through Manager W. H. Hook, these cards having been provided by the Chamber of Commerce. They are of large size and in color, the legend being as follows:

"For the sake of the Army and Navy, our allies, and our friends and relatives in town, GROW CORN, raise livestock and prevent food waste."

These cards will be posted through the various townships and will, it is believed, prove useful in the campaign for crops.

U. S. Asks for Corn.

The secretary of agriculture has issued the following statement in connection with corn growing:

Corn is America's most important cereal. It can be grown successfully over a wider area than any other and furnishes nutritious food for man as well as the staple grain feed for cattle and draft animals. The production of corn should be increased this year to the fullest extent, taking into consideration seed, labor, and existing economic conditions, and the availability of good land in corn growing regions not needed more urgently for other crops. The acreage may well be increased in most of the country east of the 100th meridian, as corn, in general, thrives in this region.

An appreciable increase in the corn crop is most feasible, however, in the sections of highest corn production. Favorable growing conditions exist in such regions; farmers there are familiar with corn-growing; they have the necessary equipment available, and have adapted corn production to prevailing economic conditions. Farmers in such regions, through many years of experience, have learned methods of successfully combating adverse conditions. They know that the planting of virile, tested seed in well-tilled, friable soil, immediate replanting of missing hills, and early and continued cultivation of the fields count for much in the ability of the plants to produce a bountiful yield. This knowledge should be put to good use during the coming season in order that, however unfavorable conditions may be, production of an exceptionally large crop may be assured.

In practically every county in the country in which experience has shown that corn may be produced successfully, the possibilities of increasing the corn crop without encroaching upon other important crops is at least worthy of consideration. If land, labor, and seed are available.

EPISCOPAL WOMEN MEET.

Orange District Division Hears of Mission Work.

There was an enthusiastic and well attended meeting of the Division No. 1 of the Orange District of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Episcopal Church, held at St. John's Church and parish house, this city, on Wednesday. The sessions opened with a celebration of the holy communion in the church at 11 a. m. The preacher was the Rev. Guy H. Fraser, rector of Christ Church, Red Hook. Following the morning service the visiting delegates and speakers, numbering over fifty, were entertained at luncheon in the parish house, by the members of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. John's Church. The afternoon session was opened with a business meeting presided over by Mrs. Hasbrouck of Rosendale, chairman of the Division. At the close of the business meeting, Miss Rushmore called the attention of all present to the coming meeting of the Woman's Auxiliaries to be held in New York city in May. The first speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Zabriskie, president of the foreign committee, who told of the excellent work being accomplished at St. Agnes, a girls' school in Klot, Japan. In spite of the fact that this school has accomplished such a vast deal of good for the girls of that section, nothing has ever been done to repair or keep up the school buildings, since they were erected, so long ago that the buildings are now in a bad state of disrepair. Unless the property can be put into safe and proper conditions this year, the license for the school will be revoked. This would be indeed a tragedy, especially as it is exceedingly difficult to secure the renewal of a license. Mrs. Zabriskie made it very plain that financial help must be forthcoming at once and generously if this wonderful philanthropy is to be continued. The next speaker was the Rev. E. A. Whipple, who told of the Christianizing work in Porto Rico. There the same difficulty as that depicted by Mrs. Zabriskie, needed repairs to church property of all sorts, was portrayed. Wonderful work has been done among the girls of Porto Rico, by Miss McCullough, but this work will have to be curtailed or abandoned unless the housing of the workers and natives is given immediate remedial attention. In Porto Rico, it was stated the church's work was almost entirely with the lower class of people. Taken altogether, it was a very inspiring and profitable meeting.

PLUTARCH.

Plutarch, April 19.—The Rev. J. J. Lyons, the new minister sent from conference, gave a very interesting talk here on Sunday. He is expected to preach here during this year every Sunday, weather permitting. Sunday school at two o'clock. Preaching at three. Seats are free and all are welcome.

Mrs. Horace Elliott is confined to her home by illness. Her daughter, Mrs. Gersham Mount, is caring for her.

Miss Emma Jones spent last Saturday in Kingston.

Fred Palmateer and wife of Poughkeepsie spent the week end with his mother and grandparents.

Arthur DeWitt and family spent Sunday out of town.

Frank McKnight of Poughkeepsie spent Sunday with his family here.

For Miss Applegate's Mission.

The women of St. John's Church, especially those of the Woman's Auxiliary have been busily engaged during Lent in the preparation of a box of clothing to be sent to the Valle Crucis Industrial school in North Carolina, where Miss Dorothy Applegate, formerly of Kingston, and the only daughter of the Rev. Dr. Octavius Applegate, former rector of St. John's Church, is now a teacher. It has been asked that all persons having clothing which they wish to send to this school, or other appropriate gifts, should take them to the parish house next Tuesday afternoon, where they will be included in the box to be sent at once.

ATWOOD.

Atwood, April 19.—Rev. McPherson has returned to this charge for another year.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Oakley of Kingston, Mrs. Ezra Palen and son of Tonkore, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. William Winchell.

Mrs. C. Sickler entertained a number of ladies on Friday.

Misses Mabel Dudley, Marjory and Dorothy Stevens of Stone Ridge spent Friday at the home of Hazel Krom.

Miss Myrtle Markle of Stone Ridge spent the week end at the home of S. DuBois.

Mrs. B. Wood of Scarborough is visiting at the home of G. Wood.

Marriage of No Avail.

Men who marry to dodge military service will not escape, under a ruling of the War Department. All men married since the outbreak of the war will be treated upon the same basis as unmarried men insofar as their military obligations are concerned. The department announced officially, asking at the same time that the press give prominence to the ruling. Recent reports in all big cities indicated a big rush to marry after war was declared.

Beverages of Certain Purity

We believe in the same use of alcoholic beverages. The immoderate use of any food or drink is harmful. But the beverages should be pure. The "cheap," doctored kinds are injurious. While they produce a state of inebriation, they also undermine your health. Be on the safe side—patronize a house like ours, which handles all the standard, proven-to-be good brands of Whiskies, Wines, Cordials, and prices its goods on the basis of "the best at the least cost."

SCHOOL OFFICIALS AID FARM CENSUS

District Superintendents Send Out
Directions to Teachers to Expedite
Important Work in Food Supply
Campaign.

The four district superintendents of schools in Ulster county, acting under orders from the State Education Department, have directed public school teachers to co-operate with Manager W. H. Hook of the Ulster County Farm Bureau, who is in charge of the taking of the farm census in Ulster county, and have issued the following letter of instructions to principals and teachers:

Kingston, N. Y., April 19, 1917.
To the Principals and Teachers of
Ulster County.

As you know the United States is now in a state of war. The shortage of food now and the impending shortage of food are the most serious problems that have confronted the nation and the world since the Civil War.

The governor of the state of New York, in view of the impending crisis has appointed a Patriotic Agriculture Service Committee. This committee recognizes that the most important step, to be taken before other action is considered to overcome the shortage, is to ascertain the true condition now of our agriculture resources. In order that the already acute labor situation may not be intensified by withdrawing men from agricultural production to take the census, the Patriotic Agriculture Service Committee have arranged to take the census through the schools of the state. Dr. John H. Finley, commissioner of education in a telegram must received has directed that all superintendents of schools, principals, teachers and pupils shall immediately gather the agricultural data required.

The Official County Enumerator of Census, W. H. Hook has appointed the following men in our districts as township directors of census.

Gardiner—Director, Joseph Deyo, Gardiner.
Hardenbergh—Directors, Ellisworth Gavette, Turnwood, Wilbert Utter, Dry Brook, Vernon Marks, Belle Ayre.

Hurley—Director, Augustus Elmen-dorf, Kingston, Box 894.
Kingston Town—Director, Miss Emily S. Burnett, Kingston.
Lloyd—Director, W. Jack Weaver, Highland.

Marlborough—Director, J. A. Hew-orth, Milton.
Marbletown—Director, C. C. Har-doubergh, Stone Ridge.
New Paltz—Director, I. C. Barnes, New Paltz.

Olive—Director, J. V. Merrinew, Olive Bridge.
Plattekill—Director, J. E. Has-brouck, Jr., Modena.
Rochester—Director, J. M. Schoon-maker, Rochester.

Rosendale—Director, Nathaniel DuBois, Bloomington.
Saugerties—Director, Harry Wells, Saugerties, R. F. D.
Shandaken—Director, Wallace J. Andrews, Oliveira.

Shawangunk—Directors, J. G. Petherbridge, Rev. Garret De Mott, Wallkill.
Ulster—Director, William True-mann, Lake Katrine.
Wawarsing—Director, Chester Young, Napunch.

Woodstock—Director, C. L. Shu-folt, Zena.

The director in your township will answer your questions and settle the questions of any of the patrons of your schools in regard to the necessity or the value of this census. Upon receipt of this letter organize your district so that you will know how many blanks will be required, using one for each farm of three acres or over on which agricultural operations are conducted, or any parcel of land which requires the entire time of one man. You will then be prepared to tell your township director when he requires it the number of blanks necessary for your district.

Further organize your district so that you know to what farmers blanks may be sent by the children in your school and to what farms you will need to send blanks by some other means and make provision for sending them.

The value of this whole census depends entirely upon promptness and accuracy. If necessary you are authorized to close school not to exceed three afternoons in order to expedite this work. You should have the school in the morning and keep the record of attendance the same as on any other day, counting each one as a full day both for attendance and for salary.

Choose the older and more capable of your pupils to assist you as enumerators in this work. Be sure they are thoroughly familiar with the blank before taking data. The plan is that the enumerator asks the questions of the farmer and records the answers or that the blank is filled out by the farmer in the presence of the enumerator.

If possible the blanks will be in your hands before school closes Monday. If not begin work as soon as the blanks arrive. The work of taking data should be finished by Wednesday noon. Another blank will be furnished you upon which to tabulate the results for your district. Your work of tabulation must be finished by Thursday night.

Mail the completed summary sheet for your district at once to the county enumerator, W. H. Hook, Kingston, N. Y. He must tabulate the data for all the districts in the county and must send in his report by Saturday, April 28th. This is a war measure and promptness is absolutely required.

Mail the completed census blanks to your district superintendent in the Manila envelope furnished. Postage required for mailing will be returned to you.

Patriotic meetings have been called or held in your district as follows: Meetings to be held on Saturday, April 21, 1917.

Denning—Sundown, church hall.

Marlborough—Milton, Chalmers Hall, Chairman, Fred DuBois, 8:30

New Paltz—New Paltz, Grange Hall, Chairman, Fred DuBois, 8:30

Woodstock—Woodstock, Fireman's

ECONOMISTS FIND INTEREST IN Lay's Saturday Sale

Our Saturday Sale is an affair in which everybody has an interest during the prevalence of war-time wholesale prices. That interest in our weekly events is pretty general is shown by the fact that home-keepers and others from the farthest-away ends of the city come to us Saturdays and buy enough meats to last well into the following week. They do not come on account of friendship—it's a matter of business—dollars, cents and quantities, if you please. And those who do not come use the telephone, knowing that they may rely upon our judgment and care in filling their orders, and that our speediest of deliveries never disappoint.

CHAMBER TO JOIN IN MASS MEETING

Judge Clearwater's Invitation Accepted by Directors—Community Chorus to be Backed by Organization—Western Union Service Unsatisfactory.

The Chamber of Commerce will join in the patriotic meeting set for the high school next Wednesday evening, the invitation of Judge A. T. Clearwater, president of the Kingston Branch of the National Security League being unanimously accepted by the directors at their meeting Thursday afternoon. The membership will be urged to take part in the coming demonstration. President Leighton was authorized to appoint a committee to thoroughly investigate marketing conditions locally and report on same. He will name the committee later.

Reports were presented on the barge canal terminal hearing and upon the patriotic meetings in connection with the Chamber of Commerce garden movement. Both were approved and the latter committee will hereafter deal with that subject instead of reporting to the board.

Appreciation of the services of John C. Freund, editor of Musical America, was unanimously voted. Mr. Freund paid all his own expenses and in line with his work here organization of a community chorus seems assured. In this connection, the directors considered action in favor of establishing a Choral Society, adopting instead the suggestion of Harry P. Dodge, who has been indefatigable in his efforts in this direction, that a Community Chorus be promoted with the ultimate purpose of forming a Choral Society. Community effort is the thing desired at the outset and all are to be invited to join in the movement. E. H. Bogart and Alfred D. Van Buren were named a committee to select an advisory board to take up the subject at once.

A committee consisting of C. Treadwell, A. E. Shufeldt, H. F. Shufeldt, O. F. Winne and C. E. Powell to investigate a proposition from New York city to establish a chair and wooden toy factory in this city.

An effort to have the Western Union Telegraph Company put Kingston on its service map will be made by the Chamber, complaints having been made of the annoyance due to night messages being telephoned from Albany and Poughkeepsie, the telephone toll charge being paid by the recipient. The telegraph company will be asked to receive messages at the West Shore station at night as well as sending them. Waking up the western Union will be begun at once.

Eat Apples and Bananas. Baked apples and baked or fried bananas make an excellent substitute for a vegetable and may be used with meat instead of the potato or onion and at a smaller cost. Both apples and bananas contain more food units per pound of edible portions than onions, and they give a pleasant flavor and agreeable odor to the meal.

According to His Folly.

The new minister was dining with an old lady. She had fried chicken for dinner, and he was very fond of chicken gizzard. Just for fun he told her he ate them to make him handsome. She adjusted her glasses and, looking him over, said, "Well, you ain't been eating them long, have you?"—Christian Herald.

FARM DRAFT OF 2,000,000 BOYS

Secretary Houston Asks Power to Regulate Prices and Production of Food During the War--Would Draft Boys for Farm Work, Closing Schools During Farming Season.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, April 20.—Governmental control and regulation of the prices of food for the period of the war appeared probable today.

In a communication to the senate Secretary of Agriculture Houston recommended that "in case of emergency the government should have the power to purchase, store and subsequently dispose of food products to groups of people or communities organized in some form, and to fix maximum and minimum prices."

The food situation now confronting the nation, Secretary Houston advised the senate, is serious. Production must be increased.

"Perhaps the power (for fixing food prices) should be lodged with the council of national defense," continued Secretary Houston's report. "It is possible that the mere existence of such power would make action unnecessary. The government should have full discretion in the matter."

How Secretary Houston would increase and conserve the nation's food supply.

He would co-ordinate all national and state agencies and independent farmers organizations and have all work along uniform lines.

Would create a small advisory commission of experts to aid the department in detailed work.

Would have each state create councils to study and deal with problems of food production and conservation. Would oppose all experiments anywhere with new and untitled crops and concentrate on crops already under way.

Would increase efficiency of present farm workers and draft into agricultural service 2,000,000 boys between the ages of 15 and 19.

Would have rural high schools suspend operations earlier this year and begin later next fall to permit boys and girls alike to aid in the harvest work.

Would have industrial plants do their repair work during the harvest season so that employees laid off while machinery is being overhauled can work in the fields.

Would enlarge all field forces or experts so that farmers can get the benefit of expert instruction along all lines of production of grains and livestock.

Would enlist all housewives in a nationwide campaign to eliminate waste.

Would enlarge to greatest possible extent all branches of department which are combating destructive insects and diseases of both animals and plants.

(Secretary Houston, while making no specific recommendation on the subject says that suspension of the manufacture of alcoholic liquors would mean the saving of $145,000,000 worth of grains now used annually in the production of alcoholic beverages.)

Would increase the flour supply 18,000,000 barrels by compelling milling of wheat so as to make 91 per cent of the kernel into flour instead of 73 per cent as at present.

Would safeguard seed stocks for 1918 against untoward climatic or other conditions. Also would supply seed at cost.

Would make an immediate nationwide survey of the food supply of the nation and establish market grades and classes of all farm products.

Would license and supervise operation of every sort of plant having to do with agriculture or consumption of agricultural products.

Would force common carriers to prefer movements of seeds, fertilizers, insecticides, fungicides, farm machinery and materials required in their manufacture.

Would enlarge the department news service to cover all localities so that both undue shortages or temporary over-supplies of perishable goods would be impossible.

Would in case of emergency give the government power to fix maximum and minimum prices through the council of national defense to be used only when ordered by the president.

Would have additional assistant secretaries of agriculture named to carry out the work of the department along the suggested new lines.

Asks for an appropriation of $25,000,000 in order that the above recommendations can immediately be carried out.

A purely civic lecture on the Reformation will be given Sunday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium at 3 o'clock by Rev. William Schoenfeld of New York city.

This will be a very timely and appropriate address owing to the unsettled period through which our country is passing. Furthermore, only too many people are unaware of the fact that the Reformation has most vital influence on political, economic and intellectual life, apart from the fundamental importance for religion.

The meeting is open to both men and women. No admission will be charged but a liberal offering is urged. Special music will be furnished under the direction of Miss Los Kamp.

WALTON PROTECTS ANGLERS' RIGHTS

Governor's Power to Suspend Ashokan Reservoir Privileges Limited to Present Year—Senator Walton Cuts Ice for Anglers.

Senator Walton has again demonstrated that the people of Ulster made no mistake in re-electing him to the senate. In the latter part of March Assemblyman Ellenbogen and Senator Boyd introduced in both houses of the legislature a bill to suspend the right to fish, boat or cut ice on the reservoirs of the city of New York, and including the Ashokan reservoir.

By the provisions of the bill as introduced, the governor could, at any time when he deemed an emergency to exist for any reason, to prevent boating, fishing or ice cutting upon all the lakes and reservoirs of the water supply of the city of New York, notwithstanding the provisions of chapter 724 of the laws of 1905, as amended by chapter 316 of the laws of 1908, which specifically provide that the residents of Ulster county shall have the right to fish upon the Ashokan reservoir. In view of the fact that the state of New York is at the present time paying the militia to guard the reservoir, it would, of course, be at least inconsistent not to restrict fishing at the present time, but to give to the governor the unrestricted power to prevent it at any time when he might see fit, would be rather broad authority, and if at any time a governor should come from the city of New York, it might be disastrous to the interests of the people of Ulster county.

Senator Walton has succeeded in amending this bill so as to provide that the governor whenever public interest may demand it by reason of a state of war, riots or in case of epidemic or a prevalence of disease, prohibit fishing or boating upon the lakes and reservoirs of the city of New York during the existence of such emergency, and no longer, and providing that in any event this power be granted to the governor shall cease on the first day of January, 1918.

The bill as amended by Senator Walton will allow the governor to prevent fishing upon the Ashokan reservoir only during the season of 1917, which, of course, it is proper that he should have the power to prevent so long as the state is maintaining a military guard around it, both for the purpose of protecting the dams and dikes against injury by cranks, and also to prevent accidental shooting of innocent fishermen by the guards, which might easily occur through accident.

This community was shocked, on Wednesday to hear of the death of Mrs. Elmer Plantz, who had died during the night. Although Mrs. Plantz had been quite ill for the past two weeks not many in the village were aware that her condition was considered serious. The funeral will be held from her home on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. We extend our sincere sympathy to the husband and daughter and mother, sister and brother, in this, their time of sorrow.

LATTINGTOWN.

Lattingtown, April 19.—This spring the weather is similar to political and military affairs in the past—rather backward.

Farm help is quite scarce for this season in this vicinity, owing to higher wages paid in the cities.

James Riely and family have moved to the Harbison large dairy and grain farm south east of the valley, which Mr. Riely's two sons, Will and Henry, have purchased for $1,000. They will sell or rent their small place here.

John McGowan and Barr are now home, the former for a brief visit and the latter to stay home for the summer.

Miss Cora Mackey of Poughkeepsie has visited her parents and Wilbur also.

Miss Reardon having spent Easter home, the pupils had a vacation of two school days.

Captain and Mrs. Smith of Bay Ridge, N. Y., have visited their daughter, Mrs. L. W. Craft.

William Kaler is to purchase a Buick touring car for his family.

An Italian funeral of a child passed through here Sunday, April 8, from Milton, with Mr. Woolsey as undertaker.

Rev. Mr. Volpert, the new minister of the Milton M. E. Church, preached an excellent sermon from the text, "Rejoice with them that rejoice and weep with them that weep" in that edifice last Sunday to a large congregation.

Spraying seems to be one of the chief occupations of the fruit growers in this section now.

The lowering of the steep grade on the road running from H. V. Mackey's to C. A. Woolley's tenant house progresses slowly as the commissioner with his assistants have to work elsewhere. The stones on one side of the road are covered with dirt which makes traveling possible.

All teachers living in the state though many probably had not taught twenty years nor received diplomas from the normal schools, especially old ones who had done faithful work in the common back district schools, should have in prospect to the number of terms taught received some benefit from the teachers' compensation law.

The czar of Russia though considered very weak minded or being influenced by his German wife and German admirers, did one good thing, he abdicated the Russian throne—banned rum from the people.

The Wilsonian administration has not caught Villa asleep or awake yet, nor made the Mexican government salute the Stars and Stripes, but with the whole nation and the navy and army backing it, it ought to take a German regiment or so and sink a half dozen German submarines within the next six months.

Sunday was a great day for the number of automobiles seen in this neighborhood and on the state road.

Patriotism in this modern age is not entirely "food from the flag," but in raising enough food from unused land to support those who carry it.

Spencer's Business School Notes.

The following students and graduates of Spencer's Business School have been located in good business positions with well known commercial houses within the past few days:

Miss Clarice Riley of the stenographic department has secured a permanent, well paying position as stenographer and typist with the Oxford Basket and Box Manufacturing Company, Oxford, N. Y.

Edward Fischang, a graduate of the shorthand department of Spencer's School, has obtained a satisfactory, permanent position as stenographer and office assistant with the Cornell Steamboat Company, 101 East Strand, this city.

Miss Emma Roberts, of the business department of Spencer's School, has been located with the J. Davis Manufacturing Company, Broadway, serving in the capacity as bookkeeper and office assistant.

Miss Ida Shaw of the shorthand department has been doing temporary stenographic work for the Everett & Treadwell Company, Broadway. Her employers speak in high terms of her qualifications.

Miss Carrie Messinger and Miss Olga Salzmann are filling temporary positions with the Ulster County Farm Bureau, John and Crown streets, this city.

Two excellent positions for male stenographers are now open. Spencer's needs more bright young men to train for good positions, and it needs them right away, as the demand is constantly increasing for the well trained Spencer's graduates.

Other graduates of the school have been helped to better positions, and their names will be published in due course of time.

Spencerian penmanship diplomas have been awarded to Ricardo Puig and Ralph Finnigan. Excellent work is being done in the practical penmanship department, and it is expected that other students will secure passing marks very shortly.

Eugene McConnell, who is employed by the North River Coal Company, was recently promoted and is now holding a position as agent for the company at Whitehall, N. Y.

Loren Ennist, an experienced graduate, has secured an excellent position with the New York Central Railroad Company, New York city.

Miss Helen Broadhead has secured a situation as stenographer with the Kingston Daily Express, Broadway.

"Talking about Non-Skid Tires"

The Diamond "Squeeggee Tread" is surely a "reason why" tread. Look at the cross bars. When the weight of the car rests on them, they just naturally get a TOE HOLD on the pavement and stop forward slide.

Then look at the longitudinal bars. They are continually in contact with the pavement and not only stop side skid ALL THE TIME but roll along as smoothly as a plain tread tire.

So if you want a real non-skid tire, we'll sell you a Diamond at its "Fair-List" Price.

"Better put Squeeggees all around"

Every Diamond Tire must deliver full value in service. If ever a Diamond Tire fails, a cheerful, willing adjustment will be promptly made.

American Mineral Oil

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Use of Mineral Oil.

Dr. Le Tanneur contributes to the Paris Medical some practical points in the use of mineral oil in constipation. The oil, he says, is in no way digested or even modified by the juices of the stomach and intestines. It acts as a lubricant and nothing else, though it tends to heal abrasions of the intestinal wall caused by rough particles of food.

The New York Medical Journal says mineral oil should be taken either before breakfast or after dinner, two table-spoonfuls being a dose. Its use should be continued every day for at least a fortnight, when the bowels will continue to work naturally without it, for the mineral oil is in no sense a cathartic, but it will cure constipation.—Kingston Daily Freeman, February 17, 1917.

MAY WHEAT REACHES $2.44

Chicago, April 20.—Wheat shot up to the highest mark in history today in the face of the beginning of a federal grand jury of an investigation to determine whether there is a conspiracy among big speculators to boost prices. Flour also reached a high mark of $13.75 a barrel, an advance of 25 cents during the day. Eggs and butter declined but the price of potatoes maintained the high level of the last few days.

PEARSON TO AID SEC. HOUSTON

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, April 20.—President R. A. Pearson of the Iowa State College of Agriculture, has accepted an appointment as chief adviser to the department of agriculture and will assume his duties tomorrow. It was officially announced today.

President Pearson is recognized as one of the foremost agricultural authorities in the country, and his selection is in line with the administration's general policy of mobilizing the brains of the country for the period of the war.

President Pearson is a native of Indiana. He was born in Evansville in 1873, studied at Cornell, and in April, 1908, was chosen commissioner of agriculture in New York. He has been at Ames since 1912.

Westminster abbey is the burial place of 13 kings of England, including Henry III, Edward I, Edward III, Richard II, Henry V, Henry VII, Edward VI, James I, Charles II, William III, and George II, as well as of five queens in their own right, and the queens of many of the kings.

COAL OUTLOOK IN KINGSTON

Enough Coal in City to Care for Immediate Consumption, But Not Enough to Stock up Everyone's Coal Bin For Next Winter.

While local coal dealers are not accepting any more orders for coal at April prices in Kingston there is enough coal being received to take care of immediate consumption in the city. At the present time the dealers are only selling coal in half ton lots to a customer at the April prices. Orders are being booked, however, for next winter's supply at the May prices, whatever they may be.

In order that a clear idea of the coal situation in Kingston might be given a local retail dealer was seen today and asked regarding the outlook in Kingston. He said that there was not enough coal being received in Kingston to fill everyone's coal bin, but that there was enough coal coming in to fill the immediate needs of the trade in the city.

For the past week the dealers have only been accepting orders for May delivery at May prices whatever that price may be. They are not in a position to quote future coal prices. As soon as they have booked as many orders as they think they can fill in May they will start to book orders for June delivery at June prices at whatever price is quoted that month.

When prices dropped in Kingston the first of April the retail dealers were swamped with orders for next winter's supply and when they had booked all the orders they thought they could fill with the coal received in April they stopped taking orders for coal at April prices.

The local dealers are not soliciting any business and each dealer is inclined to take care of their own customers first and give them preference in the matter of deliveries and also in booking of future orders.

Customers who have not paid for the past winter's coal are not receiving the same attention as those who are more prompt in their payments. During the summer months the dealers expect that enough coal will be received to fill every bin in Kingston, but at the present time not enough coal is coming through to fill all of the orders booked.

There is no coal shortage in the sense of there being no coal as enough coal is received to fill immediate consumption.

The reason why coal dealers are not able to fill all April orders at April prices is the fact, according to a local dealer, that there is a shortage of production at the mines. This is due to the fact that there is a shortage in the labor supply and also to the fact that the miners work but 8 hours a day and celebrate a number of holidays by not working.

CHAPLAIN DRAKE IS DEAD AT HOME

Widely Known Civil War Veteran Was 81 Years of Age and Was Prominent Member of Pratt Post, G. A. R.—End Came This Afternoon.

Chaplain Abram T. Drake, one of the most widely known Civil War veterans of this city, died at his home, 23 Henry street, shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon following a long illness. He was aged 81 years. He is survived by two sons, Joseph Drake of New York city, and Dr. Murray C. Drake of Binghamton, and one daughter, with whom he resided.

Deceased had been chaplain of Pratt Post, No. 127, G. A. R., more than 30 years and during that time had officiated at the funerals of hundreds of his comrades. For many years, Chaplain Drake was a licensed local preacher of the M. E. Church. His business as a salesman and distributor which he pursued all over Ulster and adjoining counties for many years made him a familiar figure. For several months past he had been confined to his home.

Notice of funeral and a more extended obituary will appear in The Freeman later.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, April 20.—Stocks were supplied from many sources during the first hour. Some of the leading brokers said that the recessions and the pressure against the market was due to lack of confidence in the interstate commerce commission and to fear that the promise made in the rate ruling yesterday will not be fully realized. Steel Common dropped to 110½ and Bethlehem Steel B, which rose ¾ at the opening to 122½, declined to 120½.

General Motors after gaining a point to 101½ dropped to 98½, and Texas Company dropped 4 points to 205. The market continued unsettled over the Washington situation with the street generally referring to the absence of knowledge and to how hard and in what direction the war taxes would be felt. There was selling also on the renewed peace talk, which made war order stocks particularly weaker in the afternoon trading.

Industrial Alcohol then sold down to 102½, a loss of nearly six points for the day, and Bethlehem Steel B dropped to 115½, a loss of 7½ points from the high price of the morning. Sloss-Sheffield sold to 44½ against 51 at the close yesterday.

The market closed steady. The selling was less vigorous during the last hour and nearly everything in which there was active trading made some gains. Industrial Alcohol, after selling down to 102½, rallied to 104 and a number of other specialties also moved up after sharp declines. Steel Common rose from 110½ to 111½, and Marine Pfd. rose from 76½ to 78½. Government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady.

The wedding ceremony was witnessed by a number of guests, among them being Mr. and Mrs. Charles Canfield, father and mother of the groom, Mrs. Mary E. Pratt, the Misses Effie and Prueella Pratt, Mrs. George Kidney and children, Clarence and Prueella. The groom has a prominent position at the Yama Farus and both have a host of friends in this town who wish them all the happiness in their married life. Great honor is due to the bride as to the ceremony being on her birthday, she being 17, April 17, 1917.

In reporting the marriage of Miss Bertha Conley to Julius Palmere, the bride's address was stated as 44 Henry street, which is incorrect. Mrs. Rose Hill resides at that number.

A meeting of the grammar school baseball team will be held Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. There will be no cross-country run as there were not sufficient entries.

ADVERTISING WRITING.

SWINE advertising economy in an acquired habit with many merchants, like sales and moving pictures, but when the habit is continued, it is a waste of money to believe that each time they look at a dollar and lay it away on ice with penitence, they have been wisely changing themselves. Well written advertisements are business getters. The other kind won't do at all. Let me write you, with "pen and punch." George M. Sullivan, care of Kingston Freeman.

ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP OHIO CAPITOL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Columbus, Ohio, April 20.—An attempt to blow up the state house became known today. Part of an electrical contrivance designed to fire off dynamite, now in the hands of Major T. J. Barry, Third Regiment, Ohio National Guard, was discovered by W. H. McCann, a teamster in the employ of the state.

McCann said he saw a stranger placing the explosive device in a basement window immediately under the office of State Treasurer Bryan, where millions of dollars in securities are kept.

When he saw his movements were being observed, the stranger grabbed a big black box and made his escape. Police authorities who have been given a good description of the man, believe the box contained enough dynamite to blow up the entire state house.

ALLIED DRIVE NEVER RELAXES

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, April 20.—Although the progress of the Anglo-French armies has slowed up at some points, Field Marshal Haig and General Nivelle continue to hammer holes in the wings of the Hindenburg line.

Since the British opened the joint drive on April 9, with their assaults on the Arras front, the allies have captured nearly 36,000 prisoners and nearly five hundred guns from the Germans.

Losses of such magnitude have been inflicted on the German armies between the Loos-Lens sector and the Argonne forest that von Hindenburg has had to rush 500,000 fresh German troops to the imperiled parts of the western front.

Never for an instant, by day or night, does the British pressure relax around Lens and near St. Quentin and the Aisne river the French slowly but surely drive forward against the vital railway feeding Laon in a grand scale endearing movement to isolate the fortress.

Military critics believe that the German high command is becoming confused by the continuous successes of the allies. Certain developments in the battle now in progress indicate that recent events have caused some of the German commanders to "lose their heads."

Elkus Has Typhus.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, April 20.—Ambassador Abram I. Elkus is suffering from an attack of typhus, the state department was informed in a report from the American embassy at Constantinople today. The message, dated April 15, said the attack was a mild one, the disease apparently being contracted at a visit to the soup kitchens. Another cable dated April 17 said the ambassador had passed a comfortable night and was resting easy.

Wake Up, America!

A "Wake up, America!" service will be held in the St. James Methodist Church on Sunday night. As a nation we have come to the great test, and the churches of America must speak out, and speak out plainly. Dr. Baragwanath's message will be an appeal to Americanism—an Americanism which calls for more than mere emotionalism. A military officer will speak at the close of the pastor's address.

Submarine Chasers in August.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, April 20.—Delivery of some of the 300 submarine chasers contracted for by the navy department will be made in August, it was announced today. A number of boats are being built at the Brooklyn navy yard. The hulls will cost between $48,000 and $55,000. The finished boats will cost about $100,000 each.

According to the evidence. He was in favor of the death penalty, he said, and thought he could sit as a fair juror on the case. When asked if a man should be compelled to prove his innocence he was sure that he would require that although he said he knew the law presumed every man to be innocent until proven guilty. He was challenged by the defense and the challenge sustained.

Mr. Rose Not Prejudiced.

Abram D. Rose, whose name was taken from the box on Wednesday and restored yesterday, was not questioned by the People. They were satisfied without questions. Mr. Brinnier after asking him if he had heard and read of the case also accepted Mr. Rose. He said he had read and talked of the case but formed no opinion and was not prejudiced against a man because he took a glass of beer or whiskey once in a while. Accepted as Juror Number 12.

George Collier, of Modena had not read of the case or heard of it and the first he knew of it was when summoned after midnight Thursday. He never talked of it except when asked by the flagman at the station where he was going when he was coming to Kingston. He told the flagman he had been summoned to serve on the Van Aken case but he did not know what sort of a case it was except that it was a murder case. He thought he would require an eye witness. He was excused by the defense.

John Benson of Highland, a carpenter, said he had read and heard of the case and formed an opinion and would require an eye witness. Bias challenge sustained.

W. Grant Trumbour of Asbury was on the grand jury which indicted Van Aken and was disqualified from sitting.

Jesse Deyo of Springtown, a farmer, had heard people express an opinion and had heard Jonathan Van Aken Aken, a neighbor of Edwin Van Aken, talk of the case. His opinion was not favorable and Mr. Deyo thought that the opinion which he had gained from Mr. Van Aken and others who were not friendly toward Edwin Van Aken might influence his verdict and prevent him from rendering a fair verdict. It would require evidence to remove this opinion. He had read of the case. Bias challenge sustained.

DuBois Anderson of Marlborough was deaf and excused.

Eugene Gornley of Shandaken was against conviction on circumstantial evidence and would require an eye witness.

Harrison D. Craig, who is deaf, thought that on a jury was a poor place for a deaf man to be and his opinion was upheld by the court. He was excused.

Other Jurors Examined.

Henry Cooley of Lattitown thought that as the man was indicted there must be something against him. He would have to prove his innocence first. He had never read of the case before. He was on the jury in the Frank Boice case a number of years ago.

Arthur Albrick of Binnewater wanted an eye witness. He had never read of the case. Bias challenge sustained.

James A. Burch of Red Hill had heard and talked of the case. He was against capital punishment when a man was convicted on circumstantial evidence. Capital punishment should not be inflicted except where there was an eye witness, he thought. Bias challenge by the People sustained.

William H. Schroeder, a freight handler at the West Shore freight depot, said he was married and knows George Van Aken by sight. Some time ago when he was on a delivery wagon he had delivered feed to Mr. Van Aken. He had read of the case, but had talked to no one of it. He had formed no opinion but would want an eye witness. Excused by the People.

Michael Flannery, a Marlborough farmer, had heard of the case, read of it and heard opinions expressed and had one himself. He would require very strong evidence before convicting a man of first degree murder. He said he did not believe in capital punishment as an innocent man had often been put to death and then found to have been innocent. Where a man confesses it is all right he thought. Bias challenge by the People sustained by the court.

Fred A. Barth of Kingston, an iron worker of Kingston, knows Van Aken to see. He said he believed in the death penalty but it was hard to make him believe in a crime unless some one saw it committed. He had read of the case but had no opinion and was sure he would be unable to render a fair verdict. He was excused by the People.

This was the last name in the box and the jury boxes were brought to court and 40 extra names drawn to be served and appear today at two o'clock to which time court took a recess.

It is probable that court will be held Saturday if the jury is completed and the case opened. The defense is willing to have the jury return to their homes over Sunday and not be kept in the custody of an officer if the case is not opened this week. If this arrangement is completed the jury will be cautioned and allowed to go home over Sunday, returning at the opening of court next week and then kept here until the close of the trial and their verdict reached. Mr. Brinnier stated that he was willing to make an affidavit to this effect and sign it himself and have Edwin Van Aken, the defendant, sign it. This will allow the jury to visit their families and home before the taking of testimony is begun. It may be agreed to later by both attorneys.

Mrs. Leeder's Stirring Millinery Sale!

SATURDAY and MONDAY

"Difference" summed up to an important total by many extra touches that may seem small, each by itself, is the story of our Millinery fashions for women and misses. Our Hats are indeed different from most of those shown in Kingston. Their neat, finished appearance shows that they were brought into being by deft fingers and rare artistry. They set the imperative stamp of "must have" where many women hoped to use "may do." But no matter how entrancingly lovely our Hats, we are going to offer some

STREET GOSSIP ABOUT TOWN

"There is no use talking," said the friend to the street corner politician, "but I won't be able to raise any potatoes in my backyard garden this year as I expected to."

"How is that?" queried the politician.

"I was looking over an agricultural book," explained the friend, "and it states potatoes must be planted in hills, and you know very well there is no hills around my house, it is all flat ground."

"Ha, ha," laughed the politician.

"What's the joke?" queried the friend.

"Your idea of planting potatoes," replied the politician.

"But I am right," persisted the friend, handing a book out of his pocket and telling the politician's attention to what the printed page said.

"That's all right," said the politician, "but what it means is you must make little hills with your hoe and plant the potatoes in them. It doesn't mean they must be planted on the side of a hill or a mountain."

"I see," replied the friend, slightly crestfallen.

"Talking about planting potatoes," said the politician, "I was thinking of planting some, but my ground is rather dry and I am afraid I would not have much success."

"You never can tell," said the friend, "I'll try."

"That's so," remarked the politician hopefully, "and by the way may be I have a good idea along that line."

"Snow," responded the friend.

"Every one says potatoes have eyes," continued the politician.

"That's so," interrupted the friend.

"Now why would it not be a good idea to plant one full of potatoes and then a row of snow?" advanced the politician suggestively.

"What's the idea?" asked the friend, puzzled.

"Well you know the ground I have is rather dry," said the politician.

"Yes, so," replied the friend.

"Well, why would it not be a good idea to plant as I just suggested?" explained the politician, "for the odor of the onion would undoubtedly make the eyes of the potato water, and that would help to moisten the ground."

"That's a fine idea," applauded the friend, slapping the politician on the back.

"The only trouble with it," replied the politician, "is that my wife who has spent some time on a farm, laughs at me when I suggest it."

"A woman always thinks she knows more than a man anyway," returned the friend.

"Getting away from the garden movement for a moment," said the friend, "what do you think of Chautauqua?"

"So far," replied the politician, "I thought the program rather enjoyable."

"It looks like they have got a new program this year at that," said the friend.

"There is only one thing I object to," said the politician.

"What is that?" asked the friend.

"The woman who attends who wants to sit up front and then refuses to remove her hat, causing the ones behind her to crane their necks out of stage to see what is going on on the stage," replied the politician.

"I was up against the same thing myself last night," interrupted the friend.

"It seems to me," said the politician, "that if a woman does not want to remove her hat she should be content to take a back seat."

"That is the woman of it," interrupted the friend.

"Sure," replied the politician, "and if she sits in the back seat she would be sure to take off her hat."

"They tell me that one objection to a county wide planning movement," said the friend, "is the lack of help."

"That should be easily overcome," replied the politician.

"What is your idea on the subject?" asked the friend.

"Make the jail prisoners work," replied the politician.

"What do you mean?" queried the friend.

"Well," replied the politician, "there is generally about twenty prisoners in jail from time to time, sent up on a charge of public intoxication."

"Yes," replied the friend.

"And they serve anywhere from ten to thirty days in the coop," said the politician.

"That is so," agreed the friend.

"Well," continued the politician, "that being so, if they were put out to work on farms it would mean just that much labor accomplished."

"The only trouble," argued the friend, "is the drunks are not capable of working."

"Yes, and they don't want to work," returned the politician, "but by making them work you would soon have a smaller jail population for they would rather stay inside the jail idle than working outside."

"What do you mean?" asked the friend.

"If prisoners were made to work," replied the politician, "you would not hear of so many drunks being arrested, for they would rather stay sober and not work."

"Then you would have less laborers," argued the friend.

"Yes," agreed the politician, "but you would have less to feed in the jail."

EPISCOPAL WOMEN MEET

Orange District Division Meets at Mission Work.

There was an enthusiastic and well attended meeting of the Division No. 1 of the Orange District of the Episcopal Auxiliary of the Episcopal Church held at St. John's Church in the parish house this evening Wednesday. The sessions opened with a celebration of the holy communion in the church at 11 a. m. The preacher was the Rev. Guy H. Fraser, rector of Christ Church, Red Hook. Following the morning service the visiting delegates and speakers numbering over fifty were entertained at luncheon in the parish house by the members of the Women's Auxiliary of St. John's Church. The afternoon session was opened with a business meeting presided over by Mrs. Hashrouck of Rosendale chairman of the Division. At the close of the business meeting, Miss Bushmore called the attention of all present to the coming meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to be held in New York city in May. The first speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Zabriskie president of the Inland committee who told of the excellent work being accomplished at St. Agnes a girls school in Kyoto Japan. In spite of the fact that this school has accomplished such a vast deal of good for the girls of that section nothing has ever been done to repair or keep up the school buildings since they were erected so long ago that the buildings are now in a bad state of disrepair. Unless the property can be put into safe and proper conditions this year the license for the school will be revoked. This would be indeed a tragedy especially as it is exceedingly difficult to secure the renewal of a license. Mrs. Zabriskie made it plain that financial help must be forthcoming at once and generously if this wonderful philanthropy is to be continued. The next speaker was the Rev. J. A. Whipple who told of the Christening work in Porto Rico. There the same difficulties are that depicted by Mrs. Zabriskie needed repairs to church property of all sorts was portrayed. Wonderful work has been done among the girls of Porto Rico by Miss McCullough but this work will have to be curtailed or abandoned unless the housing of the workers and natives is given immediate remedial attention. In Porto Rico it was stated the church is almost entirely with the lower class of people. Taken altogether it was a very inspiring and profitable meeting.

All men married since the outbreak of the war will be treated upon the same basis as unmarried men insofar as their military obligations are concerned. The department announced officially asking at the same time that the press give prominence to the ruling. Recent reports in all big cities indicated a big rush to marry after war was declared.

Not Americanisms.

Those "characteristic Americanisms," such as "take it from me," "the real stuff," "piker," "sure thing," and so on, have been traced to Sheridan, Thackeray, Smollett, Dickens and others and are in common use in Great Britain, while there appears to be little question that Aristophanes was the first to use the expression, "We take the cake."

Making Him Happy.

"When I die," said the husband, "I want you to have this sentence placed on my monument: There are peace and quiet in heaven."

"I think," rejoined the wife, "it would be more appropriate to say, 'There were peace and quiet in heaven.'"—Indianapolis Star.

FARM DRAFT OF 2,000,000 BOYS

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, April 20.—Governmental control and regulation of the prices of food for the period of the war appeared probable today.

In a communication to the Senate, Secretary of Agriculture Houston recommended that "in case of emergency the government should have the power to purchase, store and subsequently dispose of food products to groups of people or communities organized in some form, and to fix maximum and minimum prices."

The food situation now confronting the nation, Secretary Houston advised the senate, is serious. Production must be increased.

"Perhaps the power (for fixing food prices) should be lodged with the council of national defense," continued Secretary Houston's report. "It is possible that the mere existence of such power would make action unnecessary. The government should have full discretion in the matter."

How Secretary Houston would increase and conserve the nation's food supply.

He would co-ordinate all national and state agencies and independent farmers organizations and have all work along uniform lines.

Would create a small advisory commission of experts to aid the department in detailed work.

Would have each state create councils to study and deal with problems of food production and conservation. Would oppose all experiments anywhere with new and untitled crops and concentrate on crops already under way.

Would increase efficiency of present farm workers and draft into agricultural service 2,000,000 boys between the ages of 15 and 19.

Would have rural high schools suspended operations earlier this year and begin later next fall to permit boys and girls alike to aid in the harvest work.

Would have industrial plants do their repair work during the harvest season so that employees laid off while machinery is being overhauled can work in the fields.

Would enlarge all field forces of experts so that farmers can get the benefit of expert instruction along all lines of production of grains and livestock.

Would enlist all housewives in a nation-wide campaign to eliminate waste.

Would enlarge to greatest possible extent all branches of department which are combating destructive insects and diseases of both animals and plants.

(Secretary Houston, while making no specific recommendation on the subject says that suspension of the manufacture of alcoholic liquors would mean the saving of $145,000,000 worth of grains now used annually in the production of alcoholic beverages.)

Would increase the flour supply 16,000,000 barrels by compelling milling of wheat so as to make 81 per cent of the kernel into flour instead of 78 per cent as at present.

Would safeguard seed stocks for 1918 against untoward climatic or other conditions. Also would supply seed at cost.

Would make an immediate nationwide survey of the food supply of the nation and establish market grades and classes of all farm products.

Would license and supervise operation of every sort of plant having to do with agriculture or consumption of agricultural products.

Would force common carriers to prefer movements of seeds, fertilizers, insecticides, fungicides, farm machinery and materials required in their manufacture.

Would enlarge the department news service to cover all localities so that both undue shortages or temporary over-supplies of perishable goods would be impossible.

Would in case of emergency give the government power to fix maximum and minimum prices through the council of national defense to be used only when ordered by the president.

Would have additional assistant secretaries of agriculture named to carry out the work of the department along the suggested new lines. Asks for an appropriation of $25,000,000 in order that the above recommendations can immediately be carried out.

Blessing of New Stations.

The attractiveness of the immaculate Conception Church is now enlarged with the new and costly and exceptionally beautiful and artistic statuary of the cross. The solemn blessing of the new stations will take place at 8 o'clock on Sunday, April 22. One of the Franciscan Fathers from St. Francis Church, of New York city, will perform the ceremony and also will deliver an English sermon. Rev. Ignatius Bialdaga, rector of St. Joseph's Church in Poughkeepsie, will preach in Polish. Many of the reverend clergy from Kingston and neighboring cities will attend the ceremony. A more complete order of his function will be printed in tomorrow's paper.

Poughkeepsie C. of C. President.

Leon H. Scherck, of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Company, a former Newburgher, has been elected unanimously to the presidency of the Poughkeepsie Chamber of Commerce.

CEMETERY ASSO. OFFICERS.

Gashin, recording secretary; Joseph F. Sullivan, financial secretary; William Roach, treasurer, in place of Michael Dippold, resigned; Lawrence Scanlon, superintendent. The Very Rev. Dean John J. Hickey was present at the meeting and took occasion to compliment the association on the fine appearance of the cemetery and announced that the new ground of the association had been donated for gardening purposes. PEARSON TO AID SEC. HOUSTON

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, April 20.—President R. A. Pearson of the Iowa State College of Agriculture, has accepted an appointment as chief adviser to the department of agriculture and will assume his duties tomorrow. It was officially announced today.

President Pearson is recognized as one of the foremost agricultural authorities in the country, and his selection is in line with the administration's general policy of mobilizing the brains of the country for the period of the war.

President Pearson is a native of Iowa. He was born in Evansville in 1873, studied at Cornell, and in April, 1908, was chosen commissioner of agriculture in New York. He has been at Ames since 1912.

In Westminster Abbey.

Westminster Abbey is the burial place of 13 kings of England, including Henry III, Edward I, Edward III, Richard II, Henry V, Henry VII, Edward VI, James I, Charles II, William III, and George II, as well as of five queens in their own right, and the queens of many of the kings.

COAL OUTLOOK IN KINGSTON

Enough Coal in City to Care for Immediate Consumption, But Not Enough to Stock up Everyone's Coal Bin for Next Winter.

While local coal dealers are not accepting any more orders for coal at April prices in Kingston there is enough coal being received to take care of immediate consumption in the city. At the present time the dealers are only selling coal in half ton lots to a customer at the April price. Orders are being booked, however, for next winter's supply at the May prices, whatever they may be.

In order that a clear idea of the coal situation in Kingston might be given a local retail dealer was seen today and asked regarding the outlook in Kingston. He said that there was not enough coal being received in Kingston to fill everyone's coal bin, but that there was enough coal coming in to fill the immediate needs of the trade in the city.

For the past week the dealers have only been accepting orders for May delivery at May prices whatever that price may be. They are not in a position to quote future coal prices. As soon as they have booked as many orders as they think they can fill in May they will start to book orders for June delivery at June prices at whatever price is quoted that month.

When prices dropped in Kingston the first of April the total dealers were swamped with orders for next winter's supply and when they had booked all the orders they thought they could fill with the coal received in April they stopped taking orders for coal at April prices.

The local dealers are not soliciting any business and each dealer is inclined to take care of their own customers first and give them preference in the matter of deliveries and also in booking of future orders.

Customers who have not paid for the past winter's coal are not receiving the same attention as those who are more prompt in their payments.

During the summer months the dealers expect that enough coal will be received to fill every bin in Kingston, but at the present time not enough coal is coming through to fill all of the orders booked.

There is no coal shortage in the sense of there being no coal as enough coal is received to fill immediate consumption.

The reason why coal dealers are not able to fill all April orders at April prices is the fact, according to a local dealer, that there is a shortage of production at the mines. This is due to the fact that there is a shortage in the labor supply and also to the fact that the miners work but 8 hours a day and celebrate a number of holidays by not working.

CHAPLAIN DRAKE IS DEAD AT HOME

Widely Known Civil War Veteran Was 81 Years of Age and Was Prominent Member of Pratt Post, G. A. R.—End Came This Afternoon.

Chaplain Abram T. Drake, one of the most widely known Civil War veterans of this city, died at his home, 23 Henry street, shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon following a long illness. He was aged 81 years. He is survived by two sons, Joseph Drake of New York City, and Dr. Murray C. Drake of Binghamton, and one daughter, with whom he resided.

Deceased had been chaplain of Pratt Post, No. 127, G. A. R., more than 30 years and during that time had officiated at the funerals of hundreds of his comrades. For many years, Chaplain Drake was a licensed local preacher of the M. E. Church. His business as a salesman and distributor which he pursued all over Ulster and adjoining counties for many years made him a familiar figure. For several months past he had been confined to his home.

Notice of funeral and a more extended obituary will appear in The Freeman later.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, April 20.—Stocks were supplied from many sources during the first hour. Some of the leading brokers said that the recession and the pressure against the market was due to lack of confidence in the interstate commerce commission and to fear that the promise made in the late ruling yesterday will not be fully realized. Steel Common dropped 12½¢, which rose 7½¢ at the opening to 122½¢, declined to 120½¢. General Motors, after gaining a point to 161½¢ dropped to 98½¢, and Texas Company dropped 4 points to 206.

The market continued unsettled over the Washington situation with the street generally referring to the absence of knowledge and to how hard and in what direction the war taxes would be felt. There was selling also on the renewed peace talk, which made war order stocks particularly weaker in the afternoon trading. Industrial Alcohol then sold down to 102½¢, a loss of nearly six points for the day, and Bethlehem Steel B dropped to 115½¢, a loss of 7½¢ points from the high price of the morning. Steel Common sold to 14½¢ against 51 at the close yesterday.

The market closed steady. The selling was less vigorous during the last hour and more erratic, which there was active trading made some gains. Industrial Alcohol, after selling down to 102½¢, rallied to 104 and a number of other specialties also moved up after sharp declines. Steel Common rose from 110½¢ to 111½¢, and Marine Petroleum from 78½¢ to 78½¢. Government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady.

Nothing to Be Gained.
A Roman philosopher was discoursing one day on life and death. "They are just the same," he said. "There is no difference between them." "Why don't you die, then, if there is no difference?" one of his disciples asked. "Because there is no difference," returned the philosopher.

ASSOCIATION

ADVERTISEMENTS WANTED

ENVIABLE advertising economy is an acquired habit with many merchants, like habit in moving pictures, but when the habit is continued, it is a habit that pays. Let each time they advertise, they get a dollar and lay it away on ice, with pennies, they have their advertising. Really, such business men are wisely, changing themselves. Well written and well placed advertisements are the best. Let other kind won't do it well. Let the you advertise with "pep and punch." George M. Zellmer, care of Kingston Freeman.

ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP OHIO CAPITOL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Columbus, Ohio, April 20.—An attempt to blow up the state house became known today. Part of an electrical contrivance designed to fire off dynamite, now in the hands of Major T. J. Barry, Third Regiment, Ohio National Guard, was discovered by W. H. McCann, a teamster in the employ of the state.

McCann said he saw a stranger placing the explosive device in a basement window immediately under the office of State Treasurer Bryan, where millions of dollars in securities are kept.

When he saw his movements were being observed, the stranger grabbed a big black box and made his escape. Police authorities who have been given a good description of the man, believe the box contained enough dynamite to blow up the entire state house.

ALLIED DRIVE
NEVER RELAXES

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, April 20.—Although the progress of the Anglo-French armies has slowed up at some points, Field Marshal Haig and General Nivelle continue to hammer holes in the wings of the Hindenburg line.

Since the British opened the joint drive on April 9, with their assaults on the Arras front, the allies have captured nearly 36,000 prisoners and nearly five hundred guns from the Teutons.

Losses of such magnitude have been inflicted on the German armies between the Loos-Lens sector and the Argonne forest that von Hindenburg has had to rush 500,000 fresh German troops to the imperiled parts of the western front.

Never for an instant, by day or night, does the British pressure relax around Lens and near St. Quentin and the Aisne river the French slowly but surely drive forward against the vital railways feeding Laon in a grand scale encircling movement to isolate the fortress.

Military critics believe that the German high command is becoming confused by the continuous successes of the allies. Certain developments in the battle now in progress indicate that recent events have caused some of the German commanders to "lose their heads."

Elkus Has Typhus

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, April 20.—Ambassador Abraham I. Elkus is suffering from an attack of typhus, the state department was informed in a report from the American embassy at Constantinople today. Another cable dated April 17 said the ambassador had passed a comfortable night and was resting easily.

Wake Up, America!

Dr. Baragwanath's message will be an appeal Americanism, for more than mere emotionalism. A military officer will speak at the close of the pastor's address.

JUROR EXCUSED;
EXTRA PANEL OF
FORTY IS DRAWN

According to the evidence. He was in favor of the death penalty, he said, and thought he could sit as a fair juror on the case. When asked if a man should be compelled to prove his innocence he was sure that he would require that although he said he knew the law presumed every man to be innocent until proven guilty. He was challenged by the defense and the challenge sustained.

Mr. Rose Not Prejudiced

Abraham D. Rose whose name was taken from the box on Wednesday and restored yesterday was not questioned by the People. They were satisfied without questions. Mr. Brimmer after asking him if he had heard and read of the case also accepted Mr. Rose. He said he had read and talked of the case but formed no opinion and was not prejudiced against a man because he took a glass of beer or whiskey once in a while. Accepted as Juror Number 1.

George Collister of Modena had not read of the case or heard of it and the first he knew of it was when summoned after midnight Thursday. He never talked of it except when asked by the attorney at the station where he was going when he was coming to Kingston. He told the juror he had been summoned to serve on the Van Aken case but he did not know what sort of a case it was except that it was a murder case. He said he did not like to be in a witness. He was excused by the defense.

John Benson of Highland, a carpenter and he had read and heard of the case and formed an opinion and would require an eye witness. His challenge sustained.

W. Grant Trumbull of Ashbury was on the grand jury which indicted Van Aken and was disqualified from sitting.

Frederic Deva of Springtown a farmer had heard people express an opinion and had heard Jonathan Van Aken a neighbor of Edwin Van Aken talk of the case.

His opinion was not favorable and Mr. Deva thought that the opinion which he had gained from Mr. Van Aken and others who were not friendly toward Edwin Van Aken might influence his verdict and prevent him from rendering a fair verdict. He would require evidence to remove this opinion. He had read of the case. His challenge sustained.

DuBois Anderson of Marlborough was deaf and ex used.

Luke Conley of Shindaken was against conviction on circumstantial evidence and would require an eye witness.

Harrison D. Gault who is deaf thought that on a jury was a poor place for a deaf man to be and his opinion was upheld by the court. He was excused.

Other Jurors Examined

Henry Conley of Litchfield thought that as the man was indicted there must be something against him. He would have to prove his innocence first. He had never read of the case before. He was on the jury in the Frank Bolce case a number of years ago.

Arthur Abble of Blauvelt wanted an eye witness. He had never read of the case. His challenge sustained.

James A. Birch of Red Hill had heard and talked of the case. He was against capital punishment when a man was convicted on circumstantial evidence. Capital punishment should not be inflicted except where there was an eye witness he thought. His challenge by the People sustained.

William H. Schroeder a freight handler at the West Shore freight depot said he was married and knows George Van Aken by sight. Some time ago when he was on a delivery wagon he had delivered feed to Mr. Van Aken. He had read of the case but had told to no one of it. He had formed no opinion but would want an eye witness. Excused by the People.

Michael Huggers a Marlborough farmer had heard of the case read of it and heard opinions expressed and had one himself. He would require very strong evidence before convicting a man of first degree murder. He said he did not believe in capital punishment as an innocent man had often been put to death and then found to have been innocent. Where a man confesses it is all right he thought. His challenge by the People sustained by the court.

Frederic A. Birch of Kings a union worker of Kingston knows Van Aken to see. He said he believed in the death penalty but it was hard to make him believe in a crime unless some one saw it committed. He had read of the case but had no opinion and was sure he would be unable to render a fair verdict. He was excused by the People.

This was the last name in the box and the jury boxes were brought to court and 40 extra names drawn to be served and appear today at two o'clock to which time court took a recess.

It is probable that court will be held Saturday if the jury is completed and the case opened. The defense is willing to have the jury return to their homes over Sunday and not be kept in the custody of an officer.

cer if the case is not opened this week. If this arrangement is completed the jury will be cautioned and allowed to go home over Sunday returning at the opening of court next week and then kept there until the close of the trial and their verdict reached. Mr. Brimmer stated that he was willing to make an affidavit to this effect and sign it himself and have Edwin Van Aken the defendant sign it. This will allow the jury to visit their families and home before the taking of testimony is begun. It may be agreed to later by both attorneys.
